CONTENTMENT IN COOLIDGE HOME

Ex-President Pictured Amid Domestic Felicity

Kittens Behind Stove Add New England Touch

Broad Smile Attests Relief at Burden He's Lost

NORTHAMPTON (Mass.) March 5. (Exclusive)—Right at this minute, as this is being written, Calvin Coolidge is sitting in front of the blazing logs in his own front parlor whiffing Mrs. Emma Recan's roast chicken and chuckling over post Mr. Hoover in Washington.

Mrs. Coolidge is bustling about trying to get Tiny Tim, the chow, and Beans, the boy Boston Bull, reconciled to living in this same household on terms of felicity with the batch of six new kittens in their box behind the kitchen stove.

COME BACK SMILING

Calvin Coolidge stepped off the special car, where he had slept all night a few blocks from his own home promptly at 8:30 o'clock, looking like a school boy home for a vacation. He was grinning broadly. Mrs. Coolidge was laughing like a schoolgirl and tugging at the excited chow.

In spite of pouring rain the town turned out with umbrellas and gasolines and everybody was at the station, from all the leading citizens to all the mill workers' little sons and daughters, whose faces shone with the reflected glory of having been right in the same town where a former President lives.

MARRIED BY ACCIDENT

The only accident to mar the occasion was when Lieut. Al Daisy of the State Police hit 10-year-old Irene Vane of the Mill Town district with his car, injuring her so seriously that she had to be rushed to the operating room of the Coolidge-Hampton Hospital, where Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Goodhue, also is confined, seriously ill.

The Coolidges, however, were not out of the accident but proceeded home immediately. On Massasoit street, as at the station, all the neighbors were out, shouting their greetings.

Well, it's pretty strenuous getting back to private life, were Calvin Coolidge's first words as he stepped off the car and looked about him at the cheering crowds. Then he shook hands with a Boy Scout from Troop 101 to which his son, Calvin, Jr., once belonged.

Mrs. Coolidge, on alighting, caught sight of her friend and neighbor, Mrs. R. B. Hills, and immediately flew into her arms and kissed her, tiny Tim tugging and barking at the top of his voice meanwhile.

HOME, SWEET HOME

A great cheer went up. The band played "Home, Sweet Home." The Coolidges got into a car, followed by Dr. Coupal and Frank Stearns, who accompanied them from Washington, and drove down Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge and the chow together, the chow with his nose pressed against the window, taking in his new surroundings.

They passed the new "talkie" house, which has been named the Calvin. Mr. Coolidge noted it and turned to Mrs. Coolidge with a broad grin and made what appeared to be a rough comment. Mrs. Coolidge laughed.

She was wearing a beige husha coat trimmed in red fox fur and a new-brown straw hat with one of the new irregular brims. The women were all commenting on how smart and pretty she looked and hadn't changed a bit.

The neighbors also seemed to get quite a kick out of Calvin's high silk hat and long, velvet-trimmed coat, which appeared a little incongruous in the pouring rain as they stood patiently posing for pictures at the request of photographers.

PARTNERS AGAIN
The first Northampton citizens to greet Mr. Coolidge and shake his hand were Thomas J. Hammond, who studied law with him under Hammond's father, and his old law partner, R. W. Hemenway.

"Glad to see you back," they declared.
"Glad to be back," said Calvin Coolidge with emphasis.
"Well, the office is all ready and your desk cleaned out if you want to come up and do any work," Hemenway said.

"I may do that," said Coolidge. After the public reception Mr. Coolidge sought complete seclusion. Even telephone calls were ordered routed through his former law office and none got to his home.

PEACH TREE STOLEN
SACRAMENTO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Sacramento police today are investigating one of the strangest thefts on record. Thieves during the night walked into the back yard of F. C. Elliott, dug up a peach tree in bloom and carried it away.

Foreign Minister Briand of France and Dr. Stresemann were unable to meet before noon as they had planned and will confer later. Sir Austen had an active day conferring with various League figures. He talked, among others, with Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland, which is vitally interested because of German minorities in Polish Upper Silesia. The Poles also have made similar charges concerning treatment of Polish minorities by Germany in German Silesia.

LEAGUE DROPS MINORITY PLEA

Consideration of Germany's Demand Canceled

Chamberlain Says Question Too Large for Session

Real Reason Believed Desire to Avoid Public Clash

GENEVA, March 5. (AP)—A projected public session of the Council of the League of Nations, mainly to discuss Germany's demand for the better protection of the rights of minority peoples, was suddenly canceled early this afternoon.

The reason officially given was that a special committee of jurists which is examining Lithuania's petition to be represented on the Council at this occasion had not finished its labors.

QUESTION TOO LARGE

Announcement of the postponement was made shortly after a talk which Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary, gave the British press, in which he expressed the opinion that the present system of dealing with minority petitions had given good results. He thought the question was too large and required too much study to be dealt with at the present session. When the past results had been ascertained a carefully prepared program of suggestions could be laid before the Council at the next meeting.

Sir Austen voiced hope that the reparations discussions at Paris would be successful. He indicated that evacuation of the Rhineland was naturally linked with the reparations problem and said that he would continue the general conversations with Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany begun at Lugano, including disarmament.

CLASHES FEARED

It is understood that the real reason for the cancellation of today's session was a desire on the part of the leaders here to reach an agreement on the more controversial aspects of the minority problem by means of private conversations, thus avoiding undesired clashes at public meetings.

Yes, teeth lighten
when you remove dangerous film

Film, too, is the source of serious tooth and gum disorders.
Dentists urge special film-removing dentifrice.

FOR years thousands thought their teeth naturally discolored and dull. Then they made a simple test that brought a glorious surprise.

Every 9 in 10 found teeth were "off color" merely because a film coat covered them. When it was removed, teeth grew white and sparkling. The special dentifrice called Pepsodent is compounded solely for that purpose.

Film—its dangers

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It is the chief cause of the common tooth and gum disorders. Film hardens into tartar, germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent caries film, then removes it gently safely to enamel. No other way will remove teeth as sparkling white. Write for free literature supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago. Or ask your druggist for literature. Find out how white your teeth really are.

BEAUTY ADVICE FROM THE WORLD'S GREATEST AUTHORITIES

Biltmore Hotel Beauty Shop
Beauty advisor to fashionable Los Angeles joins with Fontaine of Brussels in urging this famous 2-minute complexion treatment

"Washing your face is your most important beauty treatment... In this, there is no better soap than Palmolive."

JESSIE HENDERSON, Manager
BILTMORE HOTEL BEAUTY SHOP

"The one way of ensuring that the skin is thoroughly cleansed of all impurities in the pores is the regular use twice daily of a really good soap—and in my experience the one soap to use is Palmolive."

25, RUE STE. GUDULE, BRUSSELS

M. Fontaine, coiffeur and beauty advisor by appointment to the Queen of the Belgians and the aristocratic nobles of Brussels and Flanders, who advocates "L'Essence Palmolive" in his beauty culture.

M. Fontaine's exclusive salon at 25, rue Ste. Gudule, opposite the beautiful Cathedral of Brussels, is decorated with the many royal warrants and appointments which his scientific artistry has won for him.

Retail Price

A perfect formula embodying the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra for prolonging youth and beauty.

BEAUTY advice, here in Los Angeles, as in Paris, or Vienna, is based on scientific knowledge and common-sense rules.

And here are experts, whose advice on skin care agrees in at least one major respect with the greatest authorities the world knows on beauty. Go to Fontaine in Brussels, Cavalieri in Paris—to Pess in Vienna—and they will recommend this same home beauty treatment.

Daily cleansing urged

No matter what special creams or lotions they use, all unite in urging "foundation cleansing"—a thoroughly cleansed skin as the first step in beauty culture. And they will add: "the latter of Palmolive Soap, blending the famed oils of olive and palm, gently rid the pores of dirt and oil, of old make-up, rouge and powder. Its daily use brings natural beauty."

To the smart shop of Fontaine in Brussels, which has the appointment of Her Majesty the Queen of the Belgians, ladies of the court and nobility go. For Fontaine's beauty advice is indisputably effective.

"The first care of a beauty specialist," says M. Fontaine, "is to see that the skin is in a condition to respond to treatment in the salon. If the pores are allowed to remain clogged up with particles of powder, rouge, fine dust, etc., delicate tissues must suffer."

In urging "foundation cleansing," M. Fontaine says: "Palm and olive oils are the first natural skin cleansers available; and it is a mistake to suppose that the same deep thorough cleansing can be got by other means. In my experience, the one soap to use is Palmolive."

The famous 2-minute treatment

Wherever you go, in this country or abroad, Palmolive is universally recommended—for beauty specialists by the thousand emphasize the importance of M. Fontaine's words of wisdom.

Here is the famed 2-minute complexion treatment employed by women who value skin loveliness, this each morning, and each night as well.

"With your two hands make a rich, buttery Palmolive Soap and warm water. For two minutes massage this well into the skin. Then rinse, chilling the water to icy temperature."

Beauty-wise women, the world over, have Palmolive, as have the beauty experts who teach them. In France it is one of the two best-known soaps. In 48 countries it is the leader, as in America. To "keep that schoolgirl complexion," experts tell you, use Palmolive daily.

has been on detached duty at one of the points in the district. Today at these detachments are being rushed to Mexicali, where they are being re-equipped and detailed to patrol duty along the Lower California border.

Work has been discontinued at Rodriguez Dam, near San Diego. It was stated that the territorial palace at this location was taken in order to conserve funds in the district treasury. Local banks declining to accept Mexican money policy was made for American silver or currency.

"We are out of the market for money," one of the bankers declared.

While the military headquarters here is a beehive of activity, concern through the Calceion-Mexico border of entry continued without interruption. Government officials declared that the northern district population is loyal to the Federal government and no internal trouble is expected in the district.

SOLDIERS GATHER FOR MONTERREY EXPEDITION

REYNOSA (Tamaulipas, Mex.) March 5. (AP)—Soldiers continued to concentrate here by trains, automobiles and by forced marches to night as Brig.-Gen. Jesus Garcia arrived from Matamoros, apparently to lead an expedition to Monterrey, 120 miles south of here, where revolutionists are reported to have won a small Federal garrison today. More than 3000 regulars have gathered at the camp before dark.

Gen. Garcia said he has no orders but expects to receive them in the morning. He is in command of the entire Seventh Mexican Cavalry and the Forty-third Mexican Infantry are encamped about the railway station as well as a number of companies of the Twenty-first Regular Infantry.

Gen. Garcia said all of his men are wearing red uniforms, on their backs a device adopted to distinguish loyal troops in regular uniform from revolutionists in the same uniform. The soldiers were laughing as they were told their duties and prepared to load their rifles with bullets.

Although customs officers are searching every automobile crossing the border and are recording all license numbers, no restrictions have been placed on the entry of foreigners to Mexico through the railway channels.

The telegraph operator reported that all rail and wire communications are intact to within eighteen miles of Monterrey. Other reports said the railroad tracks have been torn to a few miles west of Camargo, on the border just across the river from Rio Grande City, Tex.

MADRID AIRPLANE TAKES OFFICIAL TO LINE

BROWNVILLE (Tex.) March 5. (AP)—Matias Ramos, assistant Secretary of War for Mexico, arrived here today from Tampico in an airplane. He left the flying field immediately and could not be located. In the plane were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Madrigal of Los Angeles. Maddux owns the plane.

Others in the ship were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bacon, Miss Virginia Sullivan, R. C. Miller and Ignacio Torres, Paris and Louis Olague, Mexican officials.

Friends of Ramos in the plane said he is en route to El Paso, where he plans to re-enter Mexico and assume control of loyal Federal forces in Northern Chihuahua.

United Nations officials here were asked to clear the plane for a flight to El Paso tomorrow.

Members of the party said that Mexican officials in Tampico allowed the plane to leave only after they had promised to take Ramos to El Paso.

E. M. Tomlinson, pilot, said the Mexican government has moved all Mexican planes in Mexico City from the main hangar to the military hangar. The ships were moved to clear the air of revolutionists.

Tomlinson said the civilians were told.

San Luis, taken by the rebels, is a strategic point in the district. Today all of the movements are being made from there, where they are being organized and detailed to various points along the Lower California frontier.

Rebels Get Monterrey After Fierce Fighting

Gov. Rodriguez Reported to Plan Offensive short-lived Jucos-Serrano affair of last July, but maintain that it is less serious than the De La Huerta attempt.

RAIL LINE CUT
The Federal authorities have cut the Southern Pacific line on the west coast so as to prevent the Sonora rebels from moving south. Because there are no other railroad connections between Sonora and the central part of the republic the government believes the insurgents will be unable to advance against other States.

As the situation is outlined here it appears that there are three rebellions in as many States. Apparently the government strategy is to send expeditions first against Vera Cruz and Coahuila and then to concentrate against Sonora. Insurgents in Sonora are regarded as isolated and unable to join rebels in other States.

Strong Federal forces continued mobilizing today for the Vera Cruz campaign. They formed in three columns, perhaps totaling 15,000 men, assembling on both the inter-oceanic and Mexican railroads between sixty and 100 miles from the capital.

Gen. Aguirre, commander of the Vera Cruz insurgents, is reported to have left the city to organize his forces in the field. He is reputed to lead about 3000 men.

CALLES ON JOB
Former President Calles is on the job day and night, with little sleep or rest, at Chapultepec Castle, where supreme war headquarters were established.

With the assistance of the general staff he is carefully preparing his plans for the campaign and directing mobilization of the Federal forces. He expects to take the field actively himself later to head a Federal expedition to Sonora against Gen. Francisco Manzo.

The revolt of Manzo was not unexpected. A story, which seems fairly well authenticated, is that Calles not long ago sent Manzo word that if he revolted "I will myself come and stop you."

FOOD GETS PRIORITY
The management of the National Railways tonight ordered that cars bringing foodstuffs to the capital be given preference over all other freight so as to avoid any possibility of a food shortage.

Rockefeller Leader Denies Other Aims in Fight

Only 60 Per Cent of Oil Shares Claimed by Him

His Opposition Refuses to Concede Overthrow

CHICAGO, March 5. (P)—The only man who the Rockefeller faction has named as the Standard Oil Company's leader in the fight for the control of the board of directors, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., said today that he had not claimed more than 60 per cent of the 15,000 shares of the company since the fight began. Mr. Aldrich, who is the Standard Oil Company's chief counsel, said that the Rockefeller faction had not named any other man as its leader in the fight. He said that the Rockefeller faction had not named any other man as its leader in the fight. He said that the Rockefeller faction had not named any other man as its leader in the fight.

MILLION IN DOPE SEIZED

Name of Rothstein Linked With Arrest of Four Men in New York Narcotics Raid

NEW YORK, March 5. (P)—Narcotics worth $1,000,000, at the price addicts pay, were seized today while being shipped by express to distributors of the underground drug trade in the South and West. Four men, one reputed to be a professional bodyguard to gangsters, were arrested and held in high bail, and arrest of another was postponed temporarily because of his illness.

As in the case of other narcotics seizures in the past, the name of Arnold Rothstein, slain gambler and reputed leader of an international drug syndicate, was connected with today's activities.

The men arrested are Harry Stern, alias Marks; Irving Halper, known as Little Itch; Benny Grant, alias Green, and Benjamin Watkins. Stern, described as former bodyguard for Kid Dropper and Big and Little Augie, East Side gangster, was held in $25,000 bail and the others for $15,000. Rene Brown, also mentioned in the complaint, was not present at the arraignment and a warrant was made out for him but held in abeyance when his lawyer promised to produce him as soon as he was physically able to appear. No date for hearing was set.

Supreme Court justice, heads the firm represented by Mr. Dwight, and has been active in the Rockefeller fight.

Mr. Aldrich said about 90 per cent of the total of more than 9,000,000 outstanding shares of the company has been checked in against Stewart, and he refused to estimate what percentage of that number will be lost through revocations.

In the meantime Stewart refused to concede defeat. He said the battle will not be over until after the stockholders' meeting Thursday in Whiting, Ind., where the company has its largest refinery. He has to his credit 99.97 per cent of the proxies of the employees, he said, and he said he also has the majority of the Middle West stockholders' proxies.

DECISION NEAR ON REPARATION

Experts Hope to Complete Figures This Week

Provisional Conclusions Being Drafted

Trustee Organism to be Formidable Bank

PARIS, March 5. (P)—The experts engaged in revision of the Dawes plan for reparations payments are indicating to their friends that they hope to reach definite figures toward the end of this week and certainly by the beginning of next. Their desire is to conclude the heavy work before Easter and to take an adjournment for a few days before returning to draw up the final text of their recommendations. Their deliberations have reached the documentary stage.

Papers are in the course of preparation today and will be completed tomorrow morning, which will set forth the provisional conclusions of the three subcommittees. They will, however, contain several blank spaces representing conversations upon which conclusions have not yet been arrived at.

A large portion of the document will deal with the trustee organism, the formal name of which has not yet been determined. This organism, which was devised by Lord Revelstoke, British banker, and his associates, according to present conceptions, will be a formidable institution. It is designed as a bank with share capital and with the privilege of loaning to central banks of the creditor countries.

Czecho-Slovakia Raises Ban

Virtual Imprisonment Makes
His Illness Worse

Reservations for Baths and Treatment Held Up

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) March 5. (P)—Nobody's home is Leon Trotsky's home. Not a country in Europe seems to want the fallen leader of the greatest modern revolution, even as a guest.

Czecho-Slovakia, on whose hospitality Trotsky had hoped he could count as an escape from his present virtual imprisonment in the Soviet consulate at Constantinople, decided today through the Ministry of the Interior that the Czecho-Slovakia do not care to have such a firebrand in their peaceful community.

REJECTION CERTAIN
If and when the creator of Russia's Red army applies for a passport to enter the republic the government is certain to reject his application.

Reports from Lohatchewitz today indicated that Trotsky planned to spend the bathing season there in April. Reservations for Trotsky and his family at the hotel were made by sympathetic Czech Communists in the hope that the Czech Cabinet might decide on humanitarian grounds to admit the famous Bolshevik leader at some later date.

TREATMENT NECESSARY
Trotsky's multiple maladies are understood to be growing worse because of the close confinement in the Constantinople Consulate. The Lohatchewitz baths and springs are especially effective for the illnesses from which he suffers. Trotsky, it

SACRAMENTO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Charles C. Crites, a prominent farmer of this section, was driving along a stretch of gravel road, when one of his tires blew out. Removing the tire, Crites discovered the cause of the puncture to be a sizeable gold nugget. He sold the nugget to a jeweler and received enough to purchase a new inner tube.

Ford Named in Document Quiz

BERLIN, March 5. (P)—The name of Henry Ford today cropped up in the investigation being made by German police into the activities of Vladimir Orloff, Russian exile, held for examination regarding forged documents.

In the course of examining Orloff's papers it was charged that Orloff appeared to have sold documents to the American manufacturer for use in the suit brought by Herman Bernstein, editor, against Mr. Ford in connection with anti-Jewish articles in the Dearborn Independent.

The police, however, would not divulge any of the details concerning these documents.

Jugo-Slav Court
Orders Tax Trial

BELGRADE (Jugo-Slavia) March 5. (P)—Two representatives of the Standard Oil Company charged with defrauding the State of several million dinars in taxes and with falsifying the company's books were committed for trial today by the Jugo-Slav Court of Appeals. They are A. V. Walker and F. A. Smith.

The Belgrade municipal government made similar charges some time ago against American officials and collected more than $15,000 in fines for asserted delinquencies. The dinar is worth a little less than 2 cents.

Marine Corps
Gets New Chief

WASHINGTON, March 5. (P)—Maj.-Gen. Wendell C. Neville today took over the office of commandant of the Marine Corps, succeeding Maj.-Gen. John J. Lejeune.

The oath of office was administered by Bri.-Gen. R. H. Lane, adjutant and inspector of the Marine Corps.

Gen.-Lejeune will take charge of the department of the Pacific with headquarters in San Francisco and will serve there until his retirement in about two years.

HEALTH STILL GOOD

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 5. (P) Rumors frequently circulated regarding the health of President Mustafa Kemal were met with the first official direct response today in a speech by Premier Ismet Pasha in the National Assembly. Salvation Army
Leader Returns
From England

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (P)—Commissioner A. J. Gifford of the Salvation Army arrived here today from England. Gifford, the western territorial head of the organization, took part in the contest which wrested the regency from Gen. Bramwell Booth, long supreme head of the army.

Commissioner Gifford declared the situation is peaceful now that the change has been effected. Gen. Edward J. Higgins is the new world commander.

"English newspapers printed a story that Commander Evangeline Booth intended to lead the American Salvation Army in a secessionist movement. It was absolutely untrue," he said.

Territorial and staff officers from all over California greeted the commissioner with waving banners.

De Soto Six is comparable only with costlier cars. It is the kind of car that can be proudly owned in any company.

De Soto Six is so unmistakably different from anything that is expected in a low-priced six. It offers so much more in beauty, in smartness and in gracious harmonies of line and color. Even at rest it has an air of alert and vigorous daring that tells you it will bear you gallantly anywhere—safely, comfortably, thrillingly.

And, De Soto's looks do not belie their promise. Nowhere at anything like the price is there such amazingly restful riding—such prompt acceleration—such supple response—such ample power—such roomy comfort.

Compare De Soto Six, feature for feature, with any car in its price field. Ask those who own a De Soto their candid opinion of its merits.

Make their experience yours. Sit behind the wheel and submit De Soto to any test that you please. You will be amazed that so high a value is obtainable at so low a price. A trial entails no obligation. Phone us today for a demonstration and we will put any model you prefer at your disposal.

What have Stockings to do with Tooth Paste?

You can for instance, get an extra pair or two with that $3.00 you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste. Its cost (2¢ a large tube) is about half of that of the ordinary dentifrice. And millions, both men and women, having proved that it cleans teeth whiter, in less time, are glad to take advantage of this economy.

LISTERINE
Tooth Paste

THERE are many excellent dentifrices on the market selling at a trifle above or below 50¢—but is it necessary to pay that much? Why not a first class dentifrice at 25¢—scientifically correct for all types of teeth?

Believing this to be a sound price, we created Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ for a large tube. It is the result of more than fifty years' study of tooth and mouth troubles.

Now it is sweeping the country. Everywhere it is supplanting older and costlier dentifrices that accomplish no more.

Due to the presence of an amazing new and gentle polishing agent, it keeps teeth gleaming white with almost no brushing. Included in it are certain ingredients we have found most ideal in keeping the mouth and gums fresh and healthy.

Try Listerine Tooth Paste for a month. See how it makes teeth gleam. Note how good your mouth feels after using it. Compare it with any paste you have ever used and judge it by results alone. And then reflect that these results are costing you about half of what you would ordinarily pay. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Lauds Stand of New President in Plea to Drinkers

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of New York's Governor, has expressed her approval of President Hoover's stand for observance of the prohibition law.

Discussing "Women's Place in the World Today" before an audience at the West Side branch of the Y.W.C.A., she said the attitude expressed by the President in his inaugural address is a "very wise thing."

She believes women can help him in this work just as they did in the problem of food restriction in the World War.

She said that a woman remarked to her in the cordial generous tone of Mr. Hoover's commentary the negotiators will find themselves halfway through their business at its beginning.

WORLD EXPECTANT
The Telegraph remarks that all the world hails the Hoover administration with sympathetic expectancy. The post, while designating his inaugural address as "eloquent, dignified, enlightened," says: "The outer world won't find much in the new President's policies to satisfy its own hopes and conjectures regarding peace."

HOOPER'S COURAGE
ON DRINKING PRAISED
CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret C. Munis, treasurer of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, said today that Mr. Hoover is the first President to have the moral courage to ask the drinker to stop drinking.

"Many officials have stressed the enforcement of the law," said Mrs. Munis in her comment on Mr. Hoover's inaugural address, "but President Hoover is the first President to point out that it is the drinker's money which creates the price for which the criminal underworld is battling."

ENGLAND'S PRESS
COMMENTS HOOVER
LONDON, March 5. (AP)—Stories on the inauguration of President Hoover fill a big space in London papers today. Most papers devote their leading editorials to the event, with frequent references to the new President's vigorous personality, capacity for organization, and the like.

The Times says: "When nations and governments approach each other, it is not the nations and governments which are the subject of the discussion, but the individuals who represent them."

DUBLIN (Irish Free State) March 5. (AP)—About forty young men were arrested in various parts of Dublin today. The reason for the round-up is not made known. A large number of anxious relatives and friends gathered outside of Bridewell prison, where the youths were taken.

LONDON, March 5. (AP)—President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State government is reported in Dublin dispatches as referring in a speech there last night to "the deliberate and organized murders of witnesses and jurors," a conspiracy he indicated the government intended to crush quickly.

It is unknown here, however, whether today's arrests have any connection with this pronouncement.

Case Presented Before Supreme Court

Jay Treaty of 1794 Set Up by Aliens

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Whether aliens may cross the border to work or search for employment without being classified as quota emigrants is a question placed today before the Supreme Court in the case of Mary Cook and Antonio Danielson, naturalized Canadians from Niagara Falls, Ont.

Atty.-Gen. William D. Mitchell, who argued the proposition for the government, contended that such aliens are not visitors for "business or pleasure" who might for that reason be exempt from the quota provision of the Immigration Act.

Preston M. Albro, representing the two Canadians, said that the treaty executed by John Jay in 1794 is still in force between Great Britain and the United States in so far as it permits Canadian citizens to enter the United States. He declared that the treaty is not inconsistent with the Immigration Act.

The Jay Treaty was abrogated by the War of 1812, Mitchell contended.

Fish and Game Group Discuss Editor's Charge

SACRAMENTO, March 5. (AP)—In a session which often grew acrimonious and was as often submerged by general laughter, the Senate Fish and Game Committee adjourned late today without action in their investigation of charges printed recently by a San Francisco sportsman's magazine that 1927 legislators encountered "bought and debauched" opposition.

F. Paul Page of San Francisco, president of the Associated Sportsmen of California, read a letter from H. L. Betten, editor of the magazine in which the article appeared, in which Betten said that he had intended the article to be complimentary to the Legislature.

Betten was absent from the hearing. Senator Herbert Slater of Santa Rosa commented that Betten's language "while possibly explicable was decidedly offensive—too much so to be settled by letter."

SACRAMENTO, March 5. (AP)—Stanford University, should the Assembly follow the Senate's action today, will in the future be permitted to accept bequests in the wills of donors.

The upper house of the Legislature today voted unanimously the passage of a measure under the provisions of which the Stanford University might accept bequests, the measure being authored and sponsored for passage by Senator Nelson of Eureka.

SOVIET REPLIES IN ROW OVER OIL

Naphtha Syndicate Chairman Issues Statement

Answers Dutch Shell Group Over Agreement

Says Deal Will Increase Imports to England

MOSCOW, March 5. (AP)—Chairman Sokolnikov of the naphtha syndicate tonight issued a statement on the still obscure agreement recently concluded between Soviet and Anglo-American oil interests. It largely was in reply to a brief statement issued last week by directors of the Royal Dutch Shell group of England, of which Sir Henri Deterding is chairman, which led the English signers.

Sokolnikov says the sealing of prices on Soviet oil products below world prices is in accordance with the usual practice in the world oil trade and always has been practiced by the naphtha syndicate in signing large long-term contracts. He added that the Shell company's promises to compensate former Russian oil owners were not in the least based on the agreement and do not affect the interests of the Soviet oil syndicate.

"We reaffirm," he said, "that the agreement was signed on the basis of complete abandonment by the other party, including the Shell company, of its former demands for deduction of a certain percentage for the benefit of the old owners."

Sokolnikov declared that by the agreement imports of Soviet oil products into England will double during the next three years.

BOULDER WORK PLEAS DIVERTED

Meed Says Hiring Probably to be by Contractors

Jobless and Concessionaires
Besiege His Office

Dam Project Not Likely to be Started for Year

WASHINGTON, March 5. (Excluded)—Designed by contractors seeking to furnish materials, and individuals wanting jobs or concessions in connection with the Boulder dam development, Dr. Elwood Meed, commissioner of reclamation of the interior department, issued a statement today pointing out that it will be at least a year and possibly longer before any contracts can be let or any employment begun on the Colorado River project. In line with the general policy of the government, Dr. Meed said the entire project probably will be turned over to private contractors, in which case the general and sub-contractors will have charge of both concessions and the hiring of workmen. However, he added that no definite decision as to policy has yet been made.

RATIFICATION NEEDED
Calling attention that the gigantic enterprise will become operative only when certain conditions have been satisfied, notably ratification of the Colorado River compact by at least six of the seven states, the commissioner's statement continued as follows:

"It necessarily will take a considerable period of time to meet these several conditions and their fulfillment, together with the time necessary for technical studies, preparation of designs and specifications and the issuance of advertisements, will consume at least a year, and probably longer, before contracts can be let for the construction of the dam."

"It is necessary to emphasize this in order to correct the general impression which seems to prevail that a large construction force is to be organized at once. It will be organized, therefore, that no action can be taken at this time on applications for employment and concession privileges or on inquiries regarding the procurement of construction equipment and materials."

RAIL LINE NEEDED
"As a preliminary to the dam construction it will be necessary to build a construction railroad about thirty miles long, to connect the main line at or near Las Vegas, Nev., with the dam site. It will also be necessary to provide electric power for use during the construction period."

"Following the present policy of the department of the interior it is expected that all construction will be done by contract, but no decision has been reached in regard to this. It is expected, by far the larger number of men engaged on this work

Review of Day in Congress

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Eight new members of the Hoover Cabinet, after Senate confirmation, took the oath of office.

The Senate ordered an inquiry into the right of Secretary Mellon to continue in the cabinet. Watson of Indiana and Robinson of Arkansas were named, respectively, Republican and Democratic Senate leaders.

Representative Vestal of Indiana was selected whip by the House Republican Committee on Committees.

will be employed directly by the construction contractors, including practically all those in positions such as laborer, helper, cook, steward, skilled mechanic, store house man, timekeeper, cost keeper, truck driver, foreman, construction superintendent, etc.

CONTRACTORS IN CHARGE
"If done by contract the contractors, and not the United States, will purchase and furnish all construction equipment required on this work."

"Materials required—such as cement, lumber, except for lumber piling, reinforcing steel, etc., and pipe, outlet gates, valves, etc.—will be purchased by the United States, but only after appropriate advertisement."

"It is too early to determine the policy that will be adopted in the matter of concessions at the dam site. On contract work the general contractor usually supervises, controls and operates the major concessions, especially those located in the construction camps—such as commissaries, dormitories, mess houses, hospital, etc. Should it be considered advisable to grant a limited number of concessions to others, a suitable area may be set aside for such purposes. Under present regulations it is customary to grant such privileges only under competitive bids received after public advertisement. There may be opportunities to rent, lease, or purchase sites for such purposes in the town of Las Vegas, Nev., but this bureau has no information concerning or jurisdiction over this."

Comic Artist
Sued by Wife

RENO, March 5. (P)—Gertrude V. Crosby filed suit for divorce here today against Percy L. Crosby, comic strip artist and art editor of Life. An agreement filed with the complaint provided that Crosby shall pay his wife $100 a week alimony and $100 a week for their child, custody of which is given to Mrs. Crosby until the girl is 12 years of age.

Mrs. Crosby charged her husband with cruelty. They married at Pittsburgh, N. Y., in July, 1917.

Heber J. Grant Urges Against
"Lee's Ferry Bridge"

"Hamblin-Hastelle" Offered
as Substitute Name

PHOENIX, March 5. (P)—Leading his church in a fight to prevent the naming of the new bridge across the Colorado River in Pima county the Lee's ferry bridge, Heber J. Grant, president of the Mormon Church, today carried the battle to the floor of the Arizona Legislature. With Gov. Phillips, the veteran churchman was escorted to the rostrum of the House of Representatives, in the chamber of which both houses of the Ninth Assembly had been gathered.

President Grant informed the legislators that he had made a special trip from Los Angeles to Phoenix to tell his story to the lawmakers of this state. He pleaded that the name Lee's ferry would "reflect on all the Mormon people in every land and every clime."

HAMBLIN PRAISED
Citing the history of the state, Grant called attention to the heroic deeds of Jacob Hamblin in making pioneer history for Arizona, and suggested that his name better would grace the span at Marble Canyon than would that of John D. Lee. He read excerpts from his series of Arizona in support of the qualifications of Hamblin as the first white man to visit the spot which later was to become known as Lee's ferry, and made the assertion that Lee was the ferryman only a short time.

President Grant also called attention to the fact that much of the success of Hamblin's efforts to bring about peace with the Indians during the days of early settlement was due to the co-operation of Chief Hastelle of the Navajo tribe, and suggested that a name the Hamblin-Hastelle bridge.

At the opening of the session which was to hear Grant a piano was moved into the house chamber and members of the Legislature heard the song, "Arizona."

CAPITOL BUILDING
Representative Maloney of Pima county, crusading for the erection of new wings to the Capitol Building at a cost of $500,000, today saw a bill asking for such an appropriation and carrying the emergency clause introduced in the House by the committee on Capitol Building and Grounds.

This measure would provide for construction of a north and south wing to the present structure and for the remodeling of the interior of the building.

LITA DENIES SHE'LL WED NEXT JUNE

She Arrives to Undergo Tonsil Operation, Evading
Talk About Marriage

Lita Gray Chaplin was an enthusiastic talker on her arrival yesterday when it came to discussing the success of her vaudeville tour but when details were requested concerning her predicted marriage to Roy D'Arcy, screen actor, that was another matter.

"Nothing to it," was her response to a question about getting married in June, but observers in Hollywood are looking forward to a marriage anyway.

Mrs. Chaplin arrived on The Chief from Dayton, O., on a hurried trip home for a tonsil operation. She has a chronic infection, she said, and expects to submit within the next few days to an operation. Dr. James Holleran is her physician.

The former wife of the screen comedian said she is contracted to and that she probably will start again by an appearance at a Los Angeles theater.

D'Arcy recently confided to friends they probably will be married in June but Mrs. Chaplin declares she will be thinking about a trip to Europe about that time.

Having leased her beautiful new home in Beverly Hills, Mrs. Chaplin went to the home of her grandparents in Beverly Hills.

The last obstacle in the path of her marriage to D'Arcy was eliminated several days ago when a final decree of divorce was entered in favor of his first wife.

BERLIN, March 5. (P)—There were 2,300,000 unemployed in Germany on February 15, an increase of $0,000 since the end of January, official figures showed today.

The Communists have designated tomorrow "unemployed day" throughout Germany, asserting there are more than 3,000,000 unemployed and 1,000,000 employed only part time.

FOUR BLAMED IN RUM DEATHS

Two Couples Charged With Murder at Peoria

Fatalities Reach Sixteen as Result of Poisoning

Wood Alcohol Detected by Chemist in Analysis

PEORIA (Ill.) March 5. (P)—Murder warrants against two men and their wives were ordered issued today following the coroner's inquest into the death of Clarence Hoppe, one of twenty-one persons who died in the Peoria and Galesburg district during the last three days, supposedly from poisoned liquor.

Those named by the coroner are Maurice Mansfield, accused wholesale bootlegger, his wife, Jesse C. Guffin, asserted bootlegger, and his wife, Mita.

Testimony at the inquest disclosed that Hoppe and his brother, Ralph, had purchased liquor at the home of the Guffins, who, it was said, obtained their supply from the Mansfields.

The sixteenth and seventeenth deaths attributed to poisonous liquor in this city were reported today. Chauncey P. Robins, 39 years of age, died in a hospital shortly after he had been taken there from his home, violently ill.

In Galesburg, several miles west of here, the death of Robert Caldwell, a railroad engineer, also was reported today, apparently another victim of the bad liquor.

Authorities are investigating reports that the deaths of three other persons there since Sunday were caused by poisonous liquor. Two others, a man and woman, are said to have been blinded.

Prof. George Ashman, chemistry expert at Bradley College, Peoria, completed his analysis of liquor taken from the organs of several of the victims. He announced the still contained from 10 to 15 per cent of wood alcohol. The chemist said he believes the alcohol was industrial alcohol which had been redistilled, the redistilling, however, having been poorly done.

Coroner Elliott said he is prepared to go ahead tomorrow with inquests into the deaths of five other of the victims. He announced an autopsy has disclosed that Edward Baldwin, whose death at first was attributed to poisoned liquor, was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Authorities made known they are seeking a bootlegger known only as "Chick" Quirk, proprietor of a place where two of the victims purchased the liquor which is believed to have caused their deaths.

Meanwhile, John Cox, 45 years of age, of Vermont, Ill., is held in the County Jail at Lewistown under charges of manslaughter, accused of selling a half-gallon of poisoned liquor to Marshall Easley, 60, Vermont farmer, who died yesterday.

PURITY

WHEN YOU DRINK CITY WATER you know that it is pure water and healthful water.

Health Records reveal that there has not been a single case of a water borne disease in Los Angeles since the City's water system was placed under municipal ownership and control in 1902.

The Department of Water and Power maintains this high standard of water purity by the faithful application of exact scientific safeguards.

Every day the Department distributes, on an average, 160,000,000 gallons of water to the people of Los Angeles. Before this vast quantity of water is sent out to the consumers, it is thoroughly sterilized in a number of modern sterilization plants. Furthermore, it is subjected to painstaking laboratory tests and analyses.

In the Bacteriological Laboratory maintained by the Department, more than one hundred samples of water, taken from every section of the system, are tested and examined each day of the year.

Coming, as it does, from the melting snow banks on the slopes of the High Sierras, Los Angeles' water supply is pure at its source. It is pure and healthful when it reaches the consumer.

Attorney-General Gives His Approval

Property Custodian to Be Free on May 7

Was Convicted of Plot to Defraud Government

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The attorney-general today approved the parole of William W. Miller, a property custodian, confined in New York.

Miller was convicted in connection with the defrauding of property seized from the estate of the late John D. Rockefeller, who was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Miller's action possibly was the last of his administration, the attorney-general said, as he is to be released within an hour of the expiration of his term.

MEXICO CITY FOOD GOES UP

Hoarding Begins Despite Apparent Plenty of All Edibles as Tourists Grow Restless

MEXICO CITY, March 5. (AP)—Food prices advanced and hoarding began today which led the newspaper El Universal Grafico to suggest a food dictatorship to prevent profiteering. So far there has been no scarcity of food although some householders are purchasing quantities of such staples as flour and canned goods.

In the foreign colonies there is much alert interest in the situation, but no excitement. Many foreigners resident here have gone through revolutions before and found that life in the capital was little or not at all disturbed.

MORROW ON ALERT

United States Ambassador Morrow is keeping in close touch with the situation. He conferred again today with Foreign Minister Estrada at the Foreign Office. The embassy is reporting all developments to the Department of State at Washington. The embassy has had many calls in person and by telephone from American visitors who are anxious to know what to do in order to get out of Mexico.

It is estimated that several hundred tourists from the United States now are in the capital. No trains are running direct to the border and apparently the only way they can get out at present is to go by railroad to San Luis Potosi and then to Tampico, where they can take ship.

However, those marooned here are suffering no other inconveniences. Telephone lines are working and they can get money and reassure friends and relatives in the North. Some of them are restless, however, and declare themselves ready to start for home whenever possible.

PLAN SUGGESTED

It has been suggested that the United States Embassy, if conditions continue, may ask the government for a special train and escort to carry them to Tampico, where vessels would pick them up and transport them to Galveston and New Orleans.

The marooned tourists are considering appointment of a committee to represent them, to keep in touch with the embassy, and to make any arrangements that may be necessary.

Banks and all other businesses in Mexico City operated today as usual. The situation has caused a flurry in the exchange here. The dollar is upward bound and the peso dropping. Silver was at an increasing discount today in terms of gold.

There has been no run on the banks or any movement so far that might lead to one.

HEN THIEF WORKS IN TAXICABS

Unique Transportation System Proves Undoing of Fresno Suspect

FRESNO, March 5.—Use of a taxicab in his operations as a chicken thief proved the undoing of M. Quiteres. For two weeks the police department has been bombarded almost daily with complaints from residents of one district of the city that their chickens were being stolen.

Extra police were detailed to watch the area, but without results. Today the cries of the irate citizenry became so loud that Police Chief Walker and Captain of Detectives Broad personally took up the investigation and arrested Quiteres. They said he hired taxicabs to transport himself and his stolen poultry from various places in the city to the poultry markets where he sold the fowls.

Storm Menaces Blimps at Field in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—A heavy rainstorm, accompanied by a forty-five-mile-an-hour wind, threatened tonight to wreck one army and two navy blimps at Bolling Field here and the airships, were kept anchored to the ground only through the efforts of 150 soldiers and sailors.

Officers of the field, however, said that unless the storm grows worse, they have the situation under control.

The blimps, which had participated in yesterday's inaugural aerial review, were buffeted about by the driving wind and rain which for a time turned to sleet. Flying crews were placed aboard the blimps and the motors were kept running in case the blimps were swept away.

"HELLO UNCLE" HIS UNDOING

Edward and Phillip Bleich were sentenced to prison yesterday by Superior Judge Murray on charges of forgery and robbery as a direct result of a little girl's greeting of "hello uncle" during the robbery of a Belvedere grocery store last December. The sentences are to be served consecutively.

Ralph Bender, another asserted member of the gang, was sentenced to two years in Lone Reformatory on a charge of robbery.

The sentence was given by Dorothy Hoffman, 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Carrie Hoffman of 1219 South Record street, and a niece of Edward Bleich.

It was during the robbery of the Smalley store at 4310 Union Pacific avenue, The little girl had come to the store on an errand and was just leaving when two men entered the store and robbed the proprietor of $12. During the hold-up the girl greeted one of the men as her uncle. In the investigation that followed the two Bleichs and Bender were arrested. Mrs. Bleich also was arrested, but obtained probation.

DANISH ROYALTY STRANDED BY ICE

COPENHAGEN, March 5. (AP)—Three royal passengers, King Christian, Queen Alexandra and Prince Knud are stranded in mid-Baltic Sea on the icebound railway ferry Denmark.

The King and Queen were returning from the sunny Riviera but bad weather caught them on the way home. Despite milder weather the ice jams in the Baltic are worse than ever and the ferry from Warnemunde to Gdansk, on which the royal couple are passengers, is caught fast.

UTAH CONVICT FLEES IN AUTO OF GUARD

SALT LAKE CITY, March 5. (AP)—Robert McCoy, a life-term convict in the penitentiary, escaped today from in front of the prison in a guard's automobile which he had been permitted to go outside the walls to repair.

Thus not only will the summons-lauing policeman not have to appear and traffic court forces be saved time and effort, but the offenders will save hours of time they now lose awaiting formal hearing.

Russia Ready to Enforce Treaty Outlawing War

RIGA, March 5. (Exclusive)—Russia and Latvia are the first countries in the world to agree to enforce immediately the Kellogg pact for the outlawing of war. Latvian Minister to Moscow Osoi today presented to Acting Commissar for Foreign Affairs Maximilian Litvinoff a note announcing that the Latvian Parliament had ratified a special agreement bringing the pact into force between the two countries.

The special agreement also was signed by Estonia, Poland and Rumania, whose parliaments have not yet ratified the agreement.

DOLLAR CAPTAIN GETS CLEAN BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—United States steamboat inspectors here today dismissed investigation of the accident which plied up the Dollar liner President Garfield on Matanzas Shoal, Bahama Bank, January 30, last, without censuring Capt. Thomas P. Quinn, commander of the steamer. The Garfield was en route here from New York when the accident occurred. Little damage was done by the grounding.

The inspectors reported the record showed navigation of the Garfield was careful, but expressed belief that Quinn erred in failing to ask for radio bearings sooner, and obtaining a number of bearings in time to check his position.

FRIEDLANDER'S EXIT IMMINENT

Corporation Commissioner's
Evacuation Confirmed

Taking Up Private Practice
Long His Desire

Governor Gives No Hint on
Choice of Successor

SACRAMENTO, March 5. (Exclusive)—That Corporation Commissioner Friedlander is leaving office to enter the practice of law and will be replaced, probably within a few weeks, was definitely established today when Gov. Young and Mr. Friedlander admitted the exactitude of rumors which have been current for months.

Various names are known to be under consideration by the Governor for the office but nothing official on the new appointee is forthcoming. Keith Carlin, the Governor's executive secretary, and Charles Whittemore, his private secretary, both have been mentioned, while it is possible that Mr. Young may go outside his official family. It is almost a requirement that the Corporation Commissioner be an attorney, while for some years past the office has gone to Southern Californians. Mr. Carlin meets both of these requirements.

NEW DEPARTMENT
In connection with this appointment is an Assembly bill creating a new State department to be known as investment regulation and to include the State Banking Department, Insurance Department, Real Estate Department, Building and Loan Department and Corporation Department.

These five departments will become divisions under the supervision of a director, who will hold office at the pleasure of the Governor at a salary of $10,000 a year. The bill is a part of the Governor's reorganization scheme.

The bill is scheduled for a stormy passage and its adoption is not assured by any means. Opposition already is forming and arises from many sources. Building and loan associations, real estate concerns and others which must deal with the present departments dislike the idea of having a superdepartment created which will add more red tape and complications to their dealings with the State. These contend that the mania for governmental regulation of commerce, business and private life is reaching a point where it should be halted.

ARGUMENTS PRO
Proponents of the measure point out that the grouping of these departments under one head is a step toward efficiency and a lessening of the many lines in which the State government extends itself.

A great deal of the opposition to the bill is due to the fact that Gov. Young, in all likelihood, must select as department chief one of the present commissioners and he cannot very well pass over Will C. Wood, State Banking Commissioner. Mr. Wood is possibly the ablest politician in California. Building and loan people as well as other business corporations are reported to be somewhat fearful of Mr. Wood's power should he attain full and complete control of their affairs.

TOO MUCH POWER
Another report is that Gov. Young, himself, is not any too desirous of placing Mr. Wood in such a lofty and powerful position and would like to find an appointee who could outshine him. If the bill is defeated many signs of relief will be breathed. At any rate, it is probable that the situation will remain quiescent until after the Legislature adjourns.

Mr. Friedlander was formerly City Prosecutor at Los Angeles until two years ago, when he was appointed Corporation Commissioner by Gov. Young. Mr. Friedlander said that he has been anxious for some time to get into private practice, having had practically all the experience he feels he needs in public office.

NAVY'S AIR MANEUVERS SET RECORD

Extensive Operations at Panama Conducted
Without Casualties

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The combined fleet of the United States, assembled in the Gulf of Panama, under the command of Admiral Henry A. Wiley, has completed extended aircraft operations in connection with the fleet exercises without loss of life or injury to personnel.

In a statement reviewing the operations, Admiral Wiley pointed out today that this record indicated "thoroughness in training, skill in operation, unrelenting diligence and strict adherence to safety regulations."

In the maneuvers, 289 pilots, using 237 planes, made 1613 flights, accomplished 1150 landings on air-planes carriers and flew 297,223 miles. In addition, 118 catapult shots were made by airplanes from ships.

"BOB" SMILLIE RETIRES

Advancing Years Force British Mine Leader to Quit

LONDON, March 5. (AP)—Advancing years will compel Robert Smillie, famous miners' representative in the House of Commons, to retire from active politics in the coming general election.

Now 71 years of age, "Bob" Smillie has been Labor member for Morpeth since 1923. In the last general election he was returned by a majority of 8420 over Miss I. Ward, Conservative, with J. Dodd, Liberal, another 7000 votes behind. Smillie, a native of Belfast, was president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain from 1912 to 1921, since which time he has been president of the Scottish Miners' Federation. He has written a book called "My Life for Labor."

CONTEMPT LAID TO CEMENT MEN

Senate's Committee Files
Charge Against Eight

Move Follows Refusal to Produce Records

Counsel Says Act Illegal, as
No Trust Shown

BY C. A. JONES

"Times" Staff Representative
SACRAMENTO, March 5. (Exclusive)—For failure to produce what representatives of the cement companies declared to be "private records and trade secrets," or to answer questions, characterized as being irrelevant and immaterial, eight executives of as many cement corporations were held "to be in contempt of the committee and of the Senate" today by the special committee of the upper house investigating the cement industry in California.

The special committee voted to report "the said contempt to the Senate for such action as the Senate deems necessary."

The action of the committee was not unexpected by those cited and was declared by attorneys to place every California bank, business, financial, mercantile and manufacturing concern as well as every individual business man at the mercy of Senator Inman's investigating committee if the contention of the group headed by Senator Inman is sustained by the Legislature and the courts.

THOSE WHO WERE CITED

The eight men cited are William H. George, C. E. Gay, A. Emory Wilson, Arthur E. Shelby, San Francisco; E. E. Duque, Colton; C. C. Merrill, C. A. Lowe, Los Angeles; John Trainor, Riverside.

The committee's recommendation followed a lengthy hearing at which time the eight men called upon to testify declined to answer the questions put by Atty.-Gen. Webb, on the grounds that since "not one scintilla of evidence has been produced to show a combination," in the words of former Chief Justice Myers, appearing as counsel for one of the companies, the committee had no right to expose "to public view" the records of private corporations to be taken advantage of by competitors.

The special committee has been at work for several weeks and all of those who were called today had given testimony before. Since it was agreed generally that the committee had failed to establish contempt, Atty.-Gen. Webb was called in to reframe the questions with full knowledge that they would not be answered.

MEYERS CROSSES SWORDS

Judge Meyers declared that the action of the committee in attempting to force the companies to produce their records was a "mere dragnet in the course of a fishing expedition" and as such was in violation of the Federal and State constitutions. Meyers held that the committee first must show a combination in restraint of trade existed before it could demand private records.

Taking exception to a challenging statement from Atty.-Gen. Webb, Meyers declared that the Supreme Court of the United States is on record as disagreeing with the Attorney-General of California.

"That statement is easy to make but it does not go here," Webb answered. Whereupon, Meyers called attention to the citations in the records supporting his contention.

LEGAL OBJECTIONS

If the Senate approves the recommendation of the committee and votes to declare the eight men in contempt, the whole case will have a hearing in court. Tomorrow Robert Henderson, San Francisco, who was absent from the hearing today, will appear before the Senators.

In legal objections made to the committee by Judge Meyers and concurred in by counsel for those who testified, it was declared that the "entire investigation conducted by the committee is an inquisition to ascertain whether crimes have been committed under existing laws; that the purpose for which the committee were created is judicial, not legislative, and is in violation of the State and Federal constitutions; that the documents called for constitute trade secrets, the private property of the corporations and to enforce their production and publication would destroy private property in violation of the United States Constitution; that the committee has no right to probe into the company's private records, trade secrets for the benefit of a contemplated State-owned cement plant."

California Man Seeks Estate

PITTSBURGH, March 5. (AP)—Edwin L. Cooper of Diablo, Cal., through counsel here filed suit in Federal Court today seeking to break the will of his stepmother, Mrs. Martha Cooper, who died and cut Cooper off without a cent in an estate of $250,000, he asserts.

Cooper said that he expected to show that at his father's deathbed, his stepmother promised to pass the estate to him. Instead she willed it to her kin, Cooper declares. The father, Charles C. Cooper, died in October, 1900, and Mrs. Cooper, who lived at Emonton, Pa., died last August.

Gas Rate Cut in Southland

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (AP)—A new schedule reducing natural gas rates was filed with the State Railroad Commission today by the Southern California Gas Company. The reduction, effective in the eastern division, including San Bernardino and Riverside counties, will save consumers $12,000 annually, the commission estimated. The cut followed a recent reduction in the same district of $143,000 yearly on natural gas used for commercial and domestic purposes.

Panoramic View of Auto Show Grounds Taken During $1,250,000 Fire

When the flames yesterday swept the four tents that covered exhibits, automobile tires and paint made great pillars of smoke and firemen were unable to check flames. All spectators escaped through exits or by lifting of tent sides. Firemen said that the rubber tires under the intense heat burned like pine knots. Several firemen and an electrician were injured and burned, but none seriously, and a number of women became hysterical. The loss to the exhibitors is reported as being fully covered by insurance. It was but a few minutes after the first spark of fire was discovered until tent city was a roaring furnace.

HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1281 The Story of the World War 51—Closing Events of 1914.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE LATE FALL AND EARLY WINTER OF 1914 WITNESSED GREAT ACTIVITY AT SEA. NOVEMBER 24TH, BRITISH WARSHIPS BOMBARDED ZEEBRUGGE, GERMAN SUBMARINE "HET" ON THE BELGIAN COAST. TWO DAYS LATER THE BRITISH BATTLESHIP "BULWARK" WAS MINED AND BLOWN UP OFF SHEERNESS WITH A LOSS OF 780 LIVES.

ON DECEMBER 13TH A BRITISH SUBMARINE BOLDLY ENTERED THE NARROW STRAIT OF THE DARDANELLES, AND ACHIEVED THE REMARKABLE FEAT OF DIVING UNDER FIVE ROWS OF MINES TO TORPEDO THE TURKISH BATTLESHIP "MESSEDUEN", WHICH LAY UNDER THE GUNS OF THE SHORE FORTS.

THREE DAYS LATER, GERMAN CRUISERS, ELUDING BRITISH PATROL BOATS, RAIDED THE COAST OF ENGLAND AND SHELLED THE TOWNS OF SCARBOROUGH, HARTLEPOOL AND WHITBY, KILLING 99 PERSONS AND THROWING THE ENTIRE ENGLISH SEABOARD INTO A PANIC.

IN RETALIATION, ON CHRISTMAS DAY, 1914, SEVEN BRITISH NAVAL SEAPLANES ATTACKED THE GERMAN NAVAL BASE AT CUXHAVEN, DROPPING BOMBS WHICH INFLECTED CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE. TOMORROW—A COMPARISON OF MILITARY STRENGTH.

for health

Health measure. His authoritative opinion matches the experience of physicians throughout America, where in a survey half the doctors reporting prescribed fresh yeast.

Wheatmann's Yeast is fresh. Unlike the killed yeast, it contains millions of active yeast plants. As these yeast plants pass daily through your digestive and intestinal tract, they combat poisons, purify the whole system. And as Dr. Begtrup states, fresh yeast is the richest available food in the world. It contains Vitamin B, which doctors agree has a profound effect on constipation and disturbances of nutrition and metabolism.

Three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast daily, one cake before or between meals, or dissolved in water, richer than plain or hot water, can be drunk. A full benefit from yeast you must get regularly and over a sufficient period. At all grocers and soda fountains, lunch counters and soda fountains, they 2 or 3 days' supply at a time to keep in any cool, dry place.

How "Skinny" Girls Gain Weight Quick

Put on flesh in few weeks with new YEAST and IRON. Your own druggist guarantees results—or pay nothing.

It seems incredible how fast Ironed Yeast adds pounds of good firm flesh—on women and men, children and old people. Doctors know the value of vegetable iron and its effect in building up and improving the body. Ironed Yeast is a highly concentrated form, contains all the blood building properties of vegetable iron with yeast. It will give results in half the time required by yeast and iron taken separately.

People ask—What is Ironed Yeast that so quickly transforms pale, thin, faded complexions into the fresh smooth, lovely skin of early girlhood. Wrinkles disappear. Blood flows all out. No wonder thousands of men and women pour in letters to us in praise of the marvelous youthifying effects of Ironed Yeast!

So don't go around looking tired and yellow-looking when Ironed Yeast will build you up and bring lovely fresh color so quickly. Safe to take—pleasant-tasting tablets. Do not upset the stomach or cause gas or bloating. Go to any drug store today and get a full sized treatment course of Ironed Yeast. You are not delighted your money back.—Advertisement.

BYRD SHIP WINS ICE FIGHT

City of New York Reaches Open Water After Battling Frozen Wastes for Three Days

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch.]
[All Rights Reserved. Publication Restricted Throughout the World.]
The last few days have been days of great anxiety. The ice formed much quicker than usual in the Ross Sea this year and the City of New York, which left here on Washington's Birthday, had a desperate battle to reach a position of comparative safety. She plowed her way through heavy packs and masses of new ice for three days until she reached open water. A severe storm added to the difficulties of the City of New York and she was coated with ice until it had to be chopped away to prevent her rudder and propeller well and the rigging from becoming one solid mass.

The Eleanor Bolling also has been turned back by the ice and will not reach this season, but fortunately we have everything that is needed until she can come through next year, including gasoline for the polar flight and a number of flights of exploration. The most meat she would have added to our supply has been made up by killing seal. We will have enough for ourselves and the dogs. Even if the Eleanor Bolling could have made her way through the pack and the new ice in the Ross Sea she would have been stopped by the ice which has killed the bay and continues unbroken to the northward as far as can be seen from the plane which went up two days ago to spot seal. It was a great disappointment to Capt. Brown and the crew of the Eleanor Bolling. Commander Byrd had always looked upon this second trip as only a possibility and therefore had everything necessary brought down on the first voyage.

BROWN DISAPPOINTED
The way Brown and his men felt about it and their loyalty to Byrd and the expedition are shown by the appealing message the commander received when he ordered the Bolling back. It read:

"Your very sad message received. Sorry not to go through. All hands except one is sorry to go. We have not seen any ice so far and why don't you let me try? You know experts said before it was impossible to go to the Bay of Whales. Would a depot South winter quarters in McMurdo Sound? Me and my original gang will go to hell for you."

"I know exactly how you feel, old fellow," Byrd replied to Brown. "If I wanted some one to sail me through the gates of hell I would ask for you and your crew for I know if anyone could accomplish it you could and you wouldn't be afraid to try it either. But this place is about as cold as the other is hot, and it is almost a certainty that should you bring the Bolling

CHICAGO'S POLICE CAN'T DRINK NOW
Commissioner Says Men Will Lose Jobs if They Dare to Enter Saloons

CHICAGO, March 5. (Exclusive)—"Any Chicago policeman who goes into a bar and takes a drink might as well kiss his job good-bye," said Commissioner of Police Russell today.

"When the liquor law was being openly violated policemen thought nothing of going into a bar and taking a drink. Now we've knocked the camouflage off the beer places posing as cigar stores, laundries and soft drink parlors. We will see if the sunlight will not dry them out."

The liquor law is enforceable and I'm going to enforce it. The next stage in the fight to clean up the city will be a general attack on beer flats. We are working out a plan which, he believes, will be effective in closing thousands of speak-easies hiding one or two fights up. Every Chicago policeman will now on be a teetotaler or he will not be a policeman."

Air Control Bill Facing Attack
SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. (Exclusive)—Thirty airplanes laden with representatives of the aircraft industry will take off from airports of the bay region Friday morning to air the Sacramento, where they will direct an attack against proposed legislation that would give regulatory control of the aircraft industry to the State Motor Vehicle Department. Another squadron will leave Los Angeles for Sacramento, it was announced by Thomas R. Mitchell, manager of the San Francisco chapter of the National Aeronautical Association.

"Keep aviation out of politics," is the war cry adopted by the Association of Pilots and Operators of Northern California.

Flood Perils Town in Oregon
JORDAN VALLEY (Or.) March 5. (P)—Virtually all residents of this town, men and women, were working with picks and shovels today to save off a threatened flooding of the town by Baxter Creek.

The creek began rising when a warm chinook wind swept over the valley and tonight a number of houses are flooded. All business houses were closed today.

Supposed Liquor Runner Slain
DETROIT, March 5. (P)—The body of a man identified as Leslie Thomas Lloyd, 21 years of age, was found today near Wyandotte, a suburb. He had been shot to death. Police believe he had been engaged in the "liquor racket."

AUTO DROWNS DRIVER
STOCKTON, March 5. (P)—Frank Pierce, 19-year-old, was drowned this morning when pinned beneath an overturned auto in which he was riding. It left the road near Merced in a dense fog and upset in a shallow ditch. When his companions, J. B. Costa and Joe Diaz, extricated him he was dead.

THE PRIVATE LIFE of the PRINCE of WALES

(AS TOLD BY AN INTIMATE)

BY W. T. MARSDON

(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

X—THE PRINCE'S LIFE AT HOME
In between his tours the Prince of Wales settled down to his life at home. He had his public life and his private life. This article deals with the latter.

From the time he moved into York House the Prince made it clear that so far as his private life was concerned he was not going to be hampered and fettered by what he regarded as the old-fashioned restrictions of court etiquette.

He danced at night clubs, he went to cafes and cabarets and he dropped casually into the stalls of theaters and evinced a liking for musical comedy and revues. He enjoyed London night life as any well-to-do young man might. But at first the Prince found that there were drawbacks to this way of life for the heir to the throne.

GIRLS MOB HIM
He attracted attention, which he didn't like. One night he was at supper at a well-known cafe in the West End. When leaving he was surrounded by a crowd, mostly of girls, who pressed in on and more or less mobbed him in their admiration.

The Prince kept his temper outwardly, but he was extremely angry. It is damned ridiculous," he said to one of his staff, "to think I can't go out to supper in London like anyone else without being subjected to this kind of annoyance. I won't be able to go anywhere if it goes on."

A member of his staff explained the Prince's view to the manager of the cafe. The next time the Prince visited the manager had half a dozen private detectives, who took care that no one got too near the Prince and his party. And similar measures were adopted at other places visited by the Prince.

CABARET LEFT IN ANGER
One night at a cabaret when the Prince was present a singer gave a song coupling the name of the Prince in a vulgar and rather stupid way with the name of an actress with whom the Prince had been dancing recently at a night club. The Prince left the cabaret and did not visit it again.

Before long it became recognized that to subject the Prince to this kind of annoyance was grossly unfair and that he should be allowed to enjoy London night life in his own way, as any other individual might. Nowadays, of course, the Prince's presence at night clubs or cafes attracts no kind of attention. The Prince formed many acquaintances of both sexes in the theatrical profession. Mainly they were in musical comedy and revue. He has been generous in helping poorer people of the stage, but no one has ever been able to induce him to finance a show. His reply invariably is:

"NO" SAID DIPLOMATICALLY
"You must see So and So," naming a member of his staff. And this means there is nothing doing.

The Prince dines at fairly frequent intervals at the houses of his more intimate friends. When he goes to dinner this is virtually always followed by a small dance. The Prince detests card games.

The dinner has to be a short one. The pleasures of the table make no appeal to him. The rule observed by a host or hostess who entertains H.R.H. is a five-course dinner served at 8:30 o'clock and then dancing from 9:30 o'clock until it pleases the Prince to go home, which he will not do until 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning if he is enjoying himself.

The old rule that the host who was to entertain the heir apparent to dine should send his secretary some days before a copy of the menu and a list of guests is not now observed.

EIGHTEEN COURTESIES!
A few years ago a wealthy host, with one of the best chefs in London, did send a copy of the menu to the Prince's secretary when he was about to entertain H.R.H. at dinner. The menu showed eighteen courses. One of the Prince's staff saw the host and said to him:

"It is a splendid menu, but you know the Prince can dine quite well off a cut from the joint of a bit of cheese. That often is his dinner when he dines at home."

The host looked disappointed, but the menu was cut to six courses. In the hunting season the Prince has preferred to spend such time as he had free of public engagements at his hunting quarters at Melton or Nottingham rather than in London. At Craven Lodge, the Prince's hunting quarters at Melton in Leicestershire, H.R.H. last winter virtually kept open house in the evening. All his hunting friends at Melton were welcome to drop in about 9 o'clock and dancing went on till early morning. At midnight there was a buffet supper. Music was supplied by a first-rate band, but there were always a couple of dances played by the Prince's own band, composed of half a dozen of his friends, with himself as saxophonist.

HUNTING CURTAILED
The King's illness, however, interfered with these gayeties. Since the Prince returned from Africa he has hunted only a few times, and then usually has returned to York House in the evening.

The restlessness of the Prince's disposition, combined with an amazing vitality, drives him to seek in some form of physical activity his amusements or recreation.

Next to hunting, squash appeals to him because of the severity of the exercise. His restlessness is one of his weaknesses. He is never quite happy when still; he probably is never really still except when sleeping. Whether he is standing or sitting his hands are always on the move, fiddling with his necktie or a waistcoat button. Such a disposition is wearing. It is beginning to tell on the Prince.

There is still something boyish about him. But he is beginning to look a little worn. At times, though he may not feel it, he looks very tired.

LOCAL UTILITY GAINS IN YEAR

Stockholders of Los Angeles Gas Meet Today

Will Receive Annual Report on 1928 Operations

Sales and Earnings to Show Increase Over 1927

Addition B. Day, president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, in his annual message to stockholders today will report substantial increases in all lines of operations of the company for 1928 over the previous year, indicating steady growth on the part of the company as well as progress in the development of the community.

The pamphlet report to be issued today shows sales of electricity for 1928 at $1,000,000, or 10 per cent. above 1927, while gross earnings for 1928 were $1,000,000, or 10 per cent. above 1927, while gross earnings for 1927 were $900,000.

Flant values up. The year's increase in the investment in plant totaled $6,472,000, bringing this item to $98,987,725.67. Of the principal developments of the year was the installation of 10,000-horsepower turbogenerators, together with necessary boilers, condensers and switching equipment, at the Seal Beach electric plant.

Construction has not been necessary on a large or spectacular scale, one of the favorable positions of the company occupies as to the products and distribution, in the gas and electric departments. Mr. Day declared.

POSITION STRONG
Adequate supplies of available gas has rendered unnecessary any enlargement of the gas properties. In the distribution departments we have not been able to make long extensions into territory and the territory already occupied is served by gas and electric main systems of generous size and in fine physical condition. The company has made unnecessary any large investment in gas electric distribution plant.

The current for the year aggregated 21,625,950,000 cubic feet, an increase over 1927 of 1,164,430,000 cubic feet, or 5.4 per cent. The cost of electricity totaled $1,000,000, or 10 per cent. above 1927, while gross earnings for 1927 were $900,000.

The financing of plant additions during the year was accomplished by the sale of $45,000,000 of preferred stock, $1,000,000 of common stock, and $1,000,000 of common stock, all at par value.

BOND TREND IS FORECAST BY ROBERTS

S. W. Straus Head Sees Future for Financing of Realty Issues

Present interest of the public in stock or equity financing of realty projects is not accepted by Nicholas Roberts, newly elected president of S. W. Straus & Co., as indicative of a permanent trend away from first mortgage bond financing. Mr. Roberts, who is in Los Angeles on an official tour, yesterday expressed the view that there would always be a natural market for real estate bonds which represent a fundamental class of investment in demand by conservative investors.

RUMORS TRAIL FOKKER RISE

Market Believes Several Bids Submitted for Deal With Los Angeles Company

BY EARLE E. CROW

Fokker Aircraft's rumormongering yesterday in the New York and Los Angeles markets quickly brought to life a number of smoldering rumors on this stock. The alert followers of the airplane shares immediately linked Fokker with virtually every one of the important aviation companies in the country.

Continental Oil May be Nucleus of Huge Merger

DENVER, March 5. (Exclusive)—Several officials of the Continental Oil Company are in New York and understanding here is that the company will be the nucleus of a new large oil organization to be formed by the consolidation of the company with other companies. Efforts to learn the names of other companies to be included in the combine have been unavailing.

Bankers' Trust to Split Stock

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Directors of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York today recommended that the par value of its shares be reduced from $100 each to $10 each.

Neon Unit to Offer Rights

NEW YORK, March 5. (Exclusive)—Sale of additional treasury common stock of the Neon Unit, a subsidiary of the Electrical Products Corporation, manufacturers of Claude Neon signs, has been authorized by the board of directors.

New Company Will Succeed Starrett Bros.

Organization of the Starrett Corporation, Inc., under the laws of Delaware, which will acquire all of the capital stock of Starrett Bros., Inc., one of the largest building and construction concerns in the United States, was announced yesterday.

Gain Forecast in Financing by Sale of Stocks

Prediction that the time is not far distant when the method of raising money for building and construction lines will be revolutionized and that bond issues will give way before the rapidly advancing march of stocks was made yesterday by Corporation Commissioner J. M. Friedlander upon his return from Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the real estate mortgage bond committee of the National Association of Securities Commissioners.

INFANT INDUSTRY THRIVING

Six-Year-Old Radio Expected to Show Sales for 1929 of Approximately $1,000,000,000

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—The radio industry, just six years old, will enter the billion-dollar class this year. Sales of radio sets for 1928 were ten times those of 1922, and the manufacturers are planning to increase their output this year from 20 to 50 per cent.

Gross Earnings of Oceanic Oil Register Gain

Oceanic Oil Company reported gross earnings of $425,033.26 for the year ended December 31, last, as compared to $371,175.83 for 1927, according to a statement issued yesterday by Cecile B. Springer, secretary of the company. Net earnings after depreciation and Federal tax but before depletion charges amounted to $259,446.23, or about 26 cents a share on 995,536 shares of $1 par value outstanding, as compared with $199,569, or about 20 cents a share for the previous year.

Maj. Moseley on Aircraft Board

Maj. C. C. Moseley, vice-president of the Curtis Flying Service, a former army pilot and nationally known as a pioneer in commercial aviation, yesterday was elected a director in the Douglas Aircraft Company of Santa Monica.

STOCK VALUES SHARPLY DOWN

Few Issues Survive Flood of Selling Orders

NEW YORK, March 5. (P)—High call-money rates and increasing revolutionary disturbances in Mexico proved too great an obstacle for speculators for the advance in today's stock market, and prices broke sharply after a mid-day flurry of buying had carried a score of the copper and rail into new high ground. Final quotations disclosed a long list of net declines ranging from 1 to 6 points in the active issues, and 7 to 10 points in a few specialties. A sprinkling of copper, rail and specialties retained part of their early gains.

Mexico Revolt and Call Rate Boost Aid Break

Call money renewed at 6 per cent, advanced to 9 and thence to 10 as banks called between $25,000 and $50,000 in loans. Time money, commercial paper and bank acceptance rates held firm around the year's high levels. With Federal income tax payments and the quarterly Treasury financing due next week, and a steady spring expansion in commercial and agricultural borrowings, bankers see little hope of any early relaxation in money rates.

REINFORCED DISTURBANCES

Widespread circulation of unconfirmed rumors that directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank recently voted to increase the discount rate to 6 per cent, were overruled by the Federal Reserve Board on the ground that such action would interfere with March Treasury financing plans.

ALABAMA'S faithful servant

Alabama, among the leading industrial states of the Union, obtains practically all of the electricity to light its prosperous cities and to operate its varied industries from the Alabama Power Company. Five large water power developments (aggregating 511,000 hp.), one of the largest steam plants in the South (with 100,000 hp.), and four smaller plants belonging to the Company are now serving this progressive State. Another large dam and power plant is under construction and a new steam plant capable of generating 320,000 hp. is to be added to the system to care for the constantly growing demand.

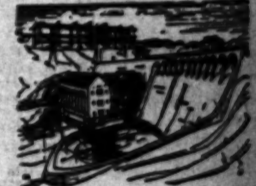

During the past fifteen years the connected load has increased from 47,000 to 900,000 hp.—gross earnings from $620,000 to over $18,000,000 and net earnings from $310,000 to over $11,000,000.

The Company enjoys excellent relations with its customers and the public. In 1923 the Company was awarded first prize and a silver trophy for the ablest development of good public relations among the power companies of this country by one of our leading financial magazines. Among about 14,000 holders of the Company's preferred stocks approximately 12,000 reside in Alabama.

The Company's transmission lines are interconnected with those of other power companies in the South, forming a group which serves, besides Alabama, the eastern half of Mississippi, western Florida, southern part of South Carolina, including Charleston, and the larger part of Georgia, including Atlanta and Macon.

The ALABAMA Power Company

Serves directly 283 communities including Mobile and Montgomery.
Supplies all power requirements of utilities serving Birmingham, Bessemer and six other communities.
Supplies electricity directly to over 91,000 customers and both directly and indirectly to over 1,300,000 consumers.
Serves a widely diversified group of industries including iron and steel, chemical, textile, cement, etc.
Owns six street railway systems which carry annually over 11,700,000 passengers.
Has outstanding among investors throughout the country $69,708,700 of mortgage bonds.

For over fourteen years the Harris Organization has been identified with the bond financing of the Alabama Power Company and its predecessor. The Harris Organization consists of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago; Harris, Forbes & Co., New York; Harris, Forbes & Co., Inc., Boston; Harris, Forbes & Co., Ltd., Montreal and London, and resident representatives in over forty other cities.

Oil News

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

A committee of oil operators which has for the past two weeks been considering ways and means to prevent unnecessary wastage of natural gas, has suggested to State officials that the oil and gas law now in effect be so amended as to make unlawful the unreasonable waste of gas, giving authority to the oil and gas supervisor to hold hearings for the purpose of determining when and to what extent unreasonable wastage exists.

The suggestion has been made that defendants should be privileged to appeal decisions to the Oil and Gas Commission, and that orders of the oil and gas supervisor should be enforceable by injunction.

In recent weeks there has been talk of the proposal of a bill to make it unlawful to drill an oil well within 150 feet of another property line, but it is reported that no such bill has yet been written, and that the matter has not been seriously considered.

Big Banquet Assured That there will be between 1200 and 1300 people at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Mines and Oil, in the Biltmore tomorrow night was the announcement made last night by Edward Higgins, managing director of the chamber.

He states that approximately 1200 reservations already have been received and that 100 or 200 are made each year at the eleventh hour. The attendance in past years has seldom exceeded 1200 persons. This year as many as fifty reservations have been made by a single oil company for its employees.

Republic Gets Well The No. 33 well of the Republic Petroleum Corporation, in the Midway field, was completed yesterday for a production estimated at between 1200 and 1300 barrels a day.

The flow is going into the pump and has not been gauged, but it is free of water and the mud cut yesterday afternoon was only 4 per cent. Casing pressure is 350 pounds and tubing pressure is 180 pounds.

This well is near the company's No. 23, which is now making 150 barrels a day, and the No. 31, which is producing 850 barrels a day.

Lawrence Test Sooned Casting is being laid in the No. 10 well of J. E. O'Donnell at Lawrence, and a production test is planned at approximately its present depth of 5835 feet.

The well has covered several good streaks of oil sand, between layers of shale, and it is the operator's belief that this formation may prove to be commercially productive.

The South Development Company is considering a similar production test in its Durand No. 1, which is in a formation like that of the O'Donnell well, although no definite decision has been announced.

DAM HOLES DUG IN SAN GABRIEL

Powder Soon Will be Put in Them to Loosen Rock

Bois to be Removed from Foundation Stone

Superiority Hear of Work Going on Swiftly

Dugging of "cave holes" for the removal of black powder charges to set the decomposed rock and sand, from bed rock at the San Gabriel Canyon dam site, is proceeding rapidly, according to Flood Control Engineer Nelson, and the holes that will loosen for removal some of the overlying rock will be dug in about two weeks.

With about 50 men working at the site of the 425-foot dam, nine miles south of Azusa, the contractors are making satisfactory progress with the work, Engineer Nelson reported to the Board of Engineers yesterday.

There are assembled on the site three large power shovels, two of them gas locomotives about as powerful as ordinary street switch engines.

The equipment will be used to dig the waste rock from the dam and distribute it on either side of the flood channel downstream. The material will be kept within permanent bounds by rip-rap on the banks.

"Cave holes" in the engineers' term for the small holes in the rock in which powder is placed for stripping. One is large enough for a man to crawl in, digging his way with a short pick and place the powder necessary to loosen the rock. Dynamite cannot be used because it would shatter the rock, and possibly spoil the foundation of the dam by making a cavity in water.

Mayo Flies as Oldfield Guest

As part of the general survey by a party of flying conditions, airplane and planes in Southern California, William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford Motor Company, made a flight over the mountains of the San Gabriel Canyon yesterday at the home of Barney Oldfield in the town of San Gabriel. Mayo, who is now on a tour of inspection of the Ford Motor Company's new $100,000 racing car, was accompanied by Walter D. Waterman, general manager of the Metropolitan Trust Co.

Mayo arrived in a Madras plane from the Grand Central Air Terminal, which he is making his headquarters, and after being aloft a few minutes he returned.

The recent purchase of the Bach and Bach Co. by the first step in the new automobile racing drive, was announced from Los Angeles to Miami City.

ELIMINOS CONVENI

Mayo Met Here to Plan State Convention in July

Representatives of twelve districts of the Elimos Federation of America met yesterday at a week's conference at the National headquarters in the Elimos Building, with President C. M. Menendez in the chair. The members are here to outline the program for the state convention to be held in Los Angeles, from July 7 to 12.

The convention will be held in the Elimos Building, and the general sessions will be held from July 7 to 12.

The Elimos also will discuss the extension of the activities of the federation in the way of relief for orphans and indigent.

NATURALIST HUNTING FOR LIONS

He Will Take Camera "Shots" at Them

Scientist Brings Family With Him

ARTHUR NEWTON PACK, naturalist and expert on forestry, who in 1921 was sent to England, France, Belgium and Germany to make a survey of the European forestry organization, reached Los Angeles yesterday on an entire day for the purpose of getting pictures and making studies for Nature Magazine, of which he is the associate editor. He left yesterday afternoon for Santa Barbara, where he will remain several weeks preparing for his expedition into the mountainous country of Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada.

During the war period Dr. Pack served as an officer of the ordnance department as an aide to Brig.-Gen. Palmer E. Pierce, later became director of purchases and supplies on the general staff, and at the time of the armistice was connected with the air service.

Bern to Speak on Film History

The silent photoplay as it is produced in Europe and in America, an analysis of its history and development, made necessary by practical considerations, will be the topic of a lecture by Paul Bern, member of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and production executive of a Hollywood studio, this afternoon at the University of Southern California.

Dean Carl T. Waugh of the college of liberal arts will introduce the lecturer. W. Ray MacDonald, of the school of speech will supplement his talk.

OWNERS OF FRONTAGE IN SESSION

Value of Land Required to Widen Telegraph Road Discussed With Referee

More than 100 property owners along Telegraph Road met at the referee's room at the County Counsel's office yesterday for an organization meeting with three referees and Deputy County Counsel Tarr. They then fixed the time for various hearings to determine the value of more than 200 parcels of land to be used for the widening of Telegraph Road to 100 feet for three miles from Mines avenue to Bandini.

Construction of a forty-foot section of the roadway recently was finished and the road opened to traffic. The referees, Hogan Williamsford of Downey, Cal., W. Bonner Adams and R. O. Bell of Los Angeles, will hold meetings at 10 a.m. every court day during the present month, and at 2 p.m. every court day during the month of April at the County Counsel's office on the eleventh floor of the Hall of Records.

If all parties to the transaction are satisfied by the referees' awards it may be possible that expensive lawsuits can be avoided. The county can take possession of the property immediately upon filing condemnation proceedings, however, so no time need be lost in road construction.

NEW YORKERS TO MEET
The New York State Society meeting will be held tomorrow evening in Veterans Hall, at 233 South Hill street. There will be community singing and dancing.

Spellman Will Wrestle Stasiak Tonight as Sauer Injured in Final Mat Work

BROWN MENTOR TO SUBSTITUTE

Glendale Star Suffers Bad Shoulder in Fall

Daviscourt Tackles Jones in One-Fall Bout

Winner Will Meet for Tilt With Sonnenberg

TONIGHT'S MAT BOUTS
Stanley Stasiak vs. John Spellman, best two out of three falls to a finish.

Dick Daviscourt vs. Paul Jones, best two out of three falls to a finish.

Y. Fujita vs. Alex Abeg, one fall to a finish, at 14-15.

A training partner yesterday cost Pete Sauer, the great Glendale grappler, to lose the first chance he has ever had to win a match for the world's lightweight wrestling title.

In his final workout for his finish mat battle with Stanley Stasiak, Stasiak, scheduled as the feature event of "Carnation" Lou Doro's wrestling show at the Olympic tonight, Sauer suffered a torn ligament in the right shoulder.

Tested out of the ring by his trainer, Dr. Lloyd Mace, State Athletic Commission physician, who examined Sauer in the presence of Bill Bomb, chief inspector of the athletic commission here, declared Sauer would be about six weeks in recovering from the injury.

BEAT DAVISCOURT
John Spellman, the young mat instructor at Brown University, who defeated Dick Daviscourt in a sensational match here two weeks ago, and who has not lost a match in his three starts here, was signed by the promoter yesterday to face Stasiak in place of Sauer. Spellman, Doro declared, is the most logical man in this section to face the giant Pole.

Stasiak is much the same type of grappler as the three Spellman has beaten in the East. The difference between them is that Stasiak is probably rougher than these three and any three others combined.

The 215-pound Polish grappler is as fast and as colorful as Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former champion.

Spellman has proven his ability to handle roughers in his previous bouts here. His two matches with Daviscourt were jammed with action, while tonight is expected to be better than either of them. The Brown University grappler, who made much a big hit with the fans in his first appearance here as a substitute in a special event, is expected to make an even greater hit in a feature go.

CHAMP TO SHOW
The winner of the feature finish event will clash with winner of the one-fall finish event between Daviscourt and Paul Jones for the right to clash with Champion Gus Sonnenberg here April 3. Sonnenberg has already been signed for the bout.

Daviscourt is attempting a comeback tonight. A victory will get him back into the feature-event class, where he has been for years. He is a great wrestler, and for the first time in months he is likely to get much of his roughing and stick to straight wrestling in his efforts to win. He has yet to use the over-head pull with any great effect since he perfected the over-head-crashing hold, but he indicated yesterday he may revive it for this bout.

Y. Fujita, Japanese jiu-jitsu expert, will meet Alex Abeg, 200-pound young bald-headed Russian. In the opening event, the bout will be for one fall to a finish with the jackets. Abeg appeared in several feature events here more than a year ago. His last match was with Jim London, Greek mat monarch. Fujita is considered the greatest Japanese wrestler to come to this country in years, and during the last months has been training to become also a catch-as-can-catch mat wrestler.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

bad that he didn't have a little more of his present speed over at Amsterdam, where he failed to finish in the money in the 1500-meter race.

Ray Cenger is a very likable young man, and learned his running from a former world's champion, H. Miller, Bob Simpson, at Iowa State University. He came into prominence a year ago when he defeated the late Ed Hahn in a 1000-yard race in Kansas City in the phenomenal time of 2m. 11s.—the race in which Hahn claimed that Cenger had "given him the elbow." Ray also showed his heels to "Herr Doktor" Felzer, and later won the 1500-meter race at the national championships and Olympic tryouts in Boston, setting a new American record of 2m. 11s.

This indoor season has been Cenger's best. He provided the upset of the winter at the Millrose Games in New York on February 9, when he beat the "hot-so-perfect" Pavlo Nurmali in a mile in 4m. 17-3/4 s., and then successfully defended his indoor 1000-yard crown in the National A.A.U. games on February 23. It has just been announced that Ray has been awarded the prize given annually to the athlete whose performance most distinguishes the Millrose Games. Now that will please his wife!

BERKELEY, March 5. (Exclusive)

With one defeat and one tie to their credit, California baseball players tomorrow will journey to Santa Clara University to play their third State College Baseball Association game of the season.

RABBIT PUNCHES

A MAT DUNDEE

THE Johnny Dundee of the wrestling game. That's the way "Carnation" Lou Doro describes "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, the new heavyweight grappling champion, after watching him in action during his recent visit to Chicago.

Just as Johnny used to bounce and hit while in full flight so Sonnenberg tackles and clamps on half-nelsons, crotches and other equally devastating holds.

"Carnation Lou" returned from his midwestern tour wearing a cold, finding the blankets in the trains too narrow for a fat man, but nevertheless bubbling over with adjectives about Sonnenberg.

According to Lou there never was anything half so terrible as Sonnenberg's flying tackle.

"Just wait till you see it," says Lou blowing like a steam calliope. "I wouldn't be tackled by Sonnenberg and take that terrible punishment for all the money in the world."

"He will be a beg hit—this Sonnenberg—when I show him here April 3 against the winner of my elimination contest between the boys who wrestle tonight—Spellman, Schick, Daviscourt and Jones. He is terrible, I tell you, terrible."

A HOOP RECORD
IT SEEMS that some special attention should be paid at this time to the fact that the California Bears have just won their fifth Pacific Coast Conference Basketball title in six years.

They accomplished this notable feat by defeating Washington two games in a row last week-end, 43-21 and 30-27.

Although basketball isn't quite as "hot" as football, it nevertheless is a very warm edition on a smaller scale. And the achievements of these Bears are certainly very noteworthy.

I quote from the brief submitted by Mr. Lewis B. Reynolds of the California news bureau in support of this statement:

"California has established a record unique in the annals of Pacific Coast basketball in that during the last thirteen years of conference competition the Bears have figured in the title play eleven times. They have won the title outright six times, tied for it twice, been runner-up twice and tied for the runner-up position once."

"With the close of the 1928 season, the Bears completed their fifth consecutive year without losing a single basketball game to Stanford, and their eighth consecutive season as series winners over their arch-enemies in athletic rivalry."

MURRAY HEARD FROM
MR. FEG MURRAY, the former Stanford hurdling star, writes from New York to say that he has gone into training again.

Not, however, to continue his duels on the track. Feg, who spends his time carousing in the big town of New York, has joined E. T. McGovern's gym, he says, to get into shape so he can trim the conductor of this column at handball next summer.

"At the gym today," writes Feg, "I bumped into my old friend, Ted Preble, California '16, with whom I used to have many a hectic hurdle race back in the good old days. He looks the same as ever, with the exception of a little more avoirdupois than an ex-hurdler should carry around."

"This is to serve as a warning to you to start intensive training because you will need all you can get before next summer."

Fremont Beats Pirate Squad
Coach Holly Adams' San Pedro Pirates played host to a cinder-path aggregation from Fremont High School and were literally run over by that organization by an 18-6-10-17-4 score in a dual meet held on the San Pedro field yesterday.

The Pathfinders scored ten out of a possible eleven first places in the encounter. Summaries:

Faulty Shots Finally Show

ROGER WETHERS' CHIP
JOHN WETHERS' PUTT
FINISHES
JOHN WETHERS' DRIVE
ROGER WETHERS' CHIP

BY SOL METZGER
Almost invariably the orthodox golf star gradually closes his stance as he plays the gun of shots ranging from putt to drive until it is square (toes paralleling the line) for the latter. Thus, all well executed shots find the player facing the hole at the finish. Still, a glance at each player as he tees off and at the finish of the stroke enables one to tell what shot has been played.

The law of physics to the effect that every action has an equal and opposite reaction holds with the golf swing. Thus, at the end of putt or short chip the golfer's position indicates that nothing but wrists and forearms were used. In the case of the mashie finish a bit of bracing indicates that a bit of body was tossed in. And at the finish of a full swing we can be sure that the full weight and swing effort were employed because the left foot is braced to catch the forward shift of weight and the club is up and over the left shoulder.

These results are natural. They indicate clearly what shot has been played. Incorrect finishes prove clearly that the swing was faulty. Study these sketches and get a mental picture of each finish so it will help you in correcting your game. Tomorrow—the grip.

To cure a habit of slicing you must first learn the cause. Sol Metzger's leaflet on "Slicing" takes up in detail the causes. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and request this leaflet.

COMSTOCK OFF TO VALLEY

Junior Olympic Games Director to Address Big Meeting at Calexico

BY BRAVEN DYER
Boyd Comstock, director of the Southern California Junior Olympic Games, and John F. Ness, member of the executive committee, will leave Friday night for Imperial Valley in a tour calculated to stimulate interest in the 1929 athletic program.

Comstock will address the Imperial County Teachers' Association meeting at Calexico Saturday, telling them of the Junior Olympic Games program.

Imperial Valley schools made a splendid showing in the games last year, and it is expected that hundreds of boys will again be entered in the gigantic athletic event.

The free trip to Honolulu, which will be the reward won by the four boys with the highest scores in Southern California, is attracting interest all over the state. In this day and age of strikes to other parts of the world are valuable educational assets calculated to improve and broaden the youngsters who are braced to catch the forward shift of weight and the club is up and over the left shoulder.

These results are natural. They indicate clearly what shot has been played. Incorrect finishes prove clearly that the swing was faulty. Study these sketches and get a mental picture of each finish so it will help you in correcting your game. Tomorrow—the grip.

S. H. Thomson Plans Return to Track Game

S. Harrison Thomson, one of the greatest all-around track-and-field athletes in the history of the game, returned to Southern California yesterday and plans to continue his competition this year as a member of the L.A.C. track-and-field team.

Thomson, a brother of the late Fred Thomson, last competed in this territory in 1921, when he broke the world's record in the all-around championships in the national A.A.U. meet at Pasadena. His record, which still stands, is 1535.3 points. His late brother Fred held the former record of 1489 points, this mark being made in 1913 and surpassing the former record held by Jim Thorpe of 1475 points.

Thomson was a former Occidental College athlete, later attending Princeton and Oxford universities.

A. A. U. Sends Dove of Peace

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—Definite overtures for peace with the National Collegiate Athletic Association are being made by the Amateur Athletic Union with some chance of a favorable reception, it is revealed in twin statements by Avery Brundage, president of the A.A.U., and Maj. John L. Griffith, executive vice-president of the N.C.A.A., in the current issue of Sportmanship.

"In order to adjust any difference that may exist (there should be none) between the college and the Amateur Athletic Union," says Mr. Brundage, "an A.A.U. committee has been appointed to meet with a committee from the National Collegiate Athletic Association and it is to be hoped that this group will be able to clear away the misunderstandings which are deplored by everyone who is honestly interested in amateur sport."

Loughran Must Box Leo Lomski

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—The Athletic Commission today decided that Tommy Loughran must defend his light-heavyweight title against Leo Lomski the next time the Philadelphia fight in New York State.

Loughran informed the commission in a telegram from Chicago that he will defend his crown there against Mickey Walker the 25th inst., but that Lomski is welcome to the next title shot after Walker has been disposed of.

Legislature Asked to Pass Amendment to Act
Thirds Vote Would be Required by Plan

Protection of property owners against the imposition of unusually excessive assessments is the subject of recommendations of the Council's Legislative Committee, which the Council unanimously recommended that the State Legislature be urged to pass amendments to improve acts which are now in effect. The amendments are along the line of providing that it should take a three-fourths vote of local legislative bodies in this city the Council proceeded with an improvement to the extent of the cost of the improvement exceeds 100 per cent of the assessed value of the property in the district. The amendments provide the following mode of procedure:

REPORT REQUIRED
Prior to the adoption of an ordinance of intention for any street improvement or acquisition proceeding, the cost of which is proposed to be levied against an assessment of the local legislative body, the local legislative body shall make a report showing: 1. Total assessed valuation of land in the proposed assessment district. 2. Total amount of outstanding assessments in the district. 3. An estimate of the total cost of the proposed improvement or acquisition.

OTHER STIPULATIONS
The total amount of the outstanding assessments, plus the estimated cost of the improvement or acquisition, exceeds 100 per cent of assessed valuation of the land in the district, then the investigation shall include in his report: 1. An estimate of the total present value of the lands in the assessment district. 2. An estimate of the total market value of the lands after the improvement. 3. His opinion as to whether the proposed improvement is feasible and whether it would be able to carry the burden of the opinion he expresses. 4. His recommendation to the Council to approve the improvement by a two-thirds vote.

COUNCIL URGES FOOD SAFEGUARD

Property Owners Protection
Favored by Body

Members Asked to Pass
Amendment to Act

Which Vote Would be Required by Plan

The resolution of property owners' protection of food safety is the subject of a resolution introduced by Councilman Foster yesterday. The committee on the subject of food safety, which was organized by the City Council last year, has recommended that the City Council should pass an amendment to the existing ordinance which provides for the inspection of food handlers. The amendment would require that the health department should have the right to inspect the premises of any food handler at any time, and that the health department should have the right to close down any premises where food is being handled if it is found to be unsanitary. The amendment would also require that the health department should have the right to issue orders to food handlers to stop handling food if they are found to be handling food in an unsanitary manner. The amendment would also require that the health department should have the right to issue orders to food handlers to stop handling food if they are found to be handling food in an unsanitary manner.

BISON BLUFES BULLDOGGERS

Ropes Snap and Cowboys Forget Prize

Lord of Plains Still Rule

Caught but not tamed, the former lord of the plains popped every rope thrown over his head when cowboys tried to hold him at Ramona Village yesterday.

MORE than a ton of American bison yesterday snorted and snuffed at the prospect of being tamed by Southern California's most intrepid cowboys.

The riders gathered at the Ramona Village for practice before taking up the offer of Col. Fred Cummins of $100 for the man who could stay on the humpbacked deck of a buffalo two minutes.

The offer was made in connection with the buffalo barbecue and rodeo which opens Friday at the village.

Ranger Bill Miller of pony express fame roped the lord of the herd, which has been named King Solomon, but after the cowboys had seen the beast snap every rope thrown over his head and demonstrate his technique at sun fishing they lost interest. Not a man would volunteer to enter the rodeo on foot in an attempt to mount a buffalo.

Of the herd four are to be slaughtered to provide steaks for the thousands expected to attend the show. The buffalo barbecue will be a daily event, with Joe Romero in charge of the pits.

Arrangements are being completed for a parade through the Wilshire district and Hollywood Friday morning, starting from the village at 9 o'clock.

Albert Russell

Funeral Today

Last rites will be conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers at 1 p.m. today for Albert Russell, former motion-picture actor and director, who died Monday of pneumonia. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Mausoleum.

Mr. Russell died just nine days after he had attended the funeral of his brother, William Russell, stage and screen actor, who also died of pneumonia.

"Al" Russell was the former husband of Viola Vale, actress, a brother-in-law of Helen Ferguson, stage actress, and a cousin of William Beaudine, motion-picture director. He was secretary-treasurer of an auto laundry on Vine street. Death came Monday while preparations were being made to remove him from his home to a hospital. He was 38 years of age. He leaves one son, Albert, Jr., 10.

CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

ALUMNI PICK CHIEFS

NEW CHAPEL DESCRIBED AND MT. WILSON SCIENTIFIC WORK RELATED

Harold P. Huls was elected president of the University of Chicago Alumni of Los Angeles at a meeting in the University Club last night and Dr. Edwin Hubbell of Mt. Wilson Observatory was chosen vice-president, with Dr. Frederick Spiek as secretary-treasurer.

Addresses were given by Dr. Theodore G. Soars of Chicago, Dr. Hubbell, and Miss Eva Jessup of the Los Angeles Board of Education. Dr. Soars gave the alumni a word picture of the University of Chicago's new $1,500,000 chapel, money for which was tendered by John D. Rockefeller, Sr., in 1910.

Dr. Hubbell used slides to illustrate some of the discoveries recently gathered at the Mt. Wilson astronomical observatory, and informed the collegians that hundreds of nebulae comparable to the milky way of our universe, and composing entire universes in themselves, have been discovered, and their luminosity and distance approximately figured, with the aid of Mt. Wilson's 100-inch, four-ton reflecting telescope. Some of the other universes which now can be approximately measured are 140,000,000 light years away, Dr. Hubbell stated.

Girls to Wield

Brooms in Test

A sweeping contest for girls was announced yesterday as one of the highlights of the fifth annual food and household show, April 22 to 27, in Ambassador Auditorium. Expected to stir up plenty of synthetic dust, the broom event will be held Tuesday, April 23, on the Ambassador tennis court.

More than forty girls will be permitted to enter. Registrations are being taken at offices of the show, under the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association direction in the auditorium.

Judge Refers Custody Case Perjury Charge

That perjury charges made by Mrs. Ada Johnson in an affidavit against her husband, Frank Johnson, should be investigated by the District Attorney's office, was indicated by Superior Judge McComb yesterday when he told Attorney Roger Marchetti he couldn't consider the charges before the divorce hearing.

The Johnsons are quarreling over the custody of Frankie Darro, Mrs. Johnson's son, a "child prodigy" said to be capable of earning $400 a week in the films.

Mrs. Johnson in her affidavit said that Johnson claimed, in his cross-complaint, to be the child's father, whereas, she asserts in her affidavit, Johnson is not.

H. N. Witt Gets

Into Race for City Council

Favoring particularly the reduction of taxes and assessments, H. N. Witt yesterday announced his candidacy for election to the City Council from the Tenth Councilman's district. He declared that if elected he will devote his entire time to the office, insisting that his district be fully benefited by taxes levied against it.

The candidate has been a builder and property owner in the Tenth District for seven years. He lives at 115 West Fourteenth place, and has opened headquarters at 740 South Spring street.

FOOD SAFEGUARD APPROVED

Councilman Foster Admits Necessity of Tests for Handlers of Edibles

The necessity for the physical examination of persons employed in handling of food was acknowledged yesterday in a resolution introduced in the City Council by Councilman Foster, who some weeks before had introduced a resolution in which he attacked the health department for conducting such examinations without direct authorization by the Council.

As a result of Foster's original resolution the Council undertook an investigation of the health department's assertedly unauthorized examination of food handlers, the investigation being conducted by the Public Welfare Committee. The most recent action of that committee in the matter was to refer it to the City Attorney for an opinion as to whether the health department had exceeded its legal powers. Pending the receipt of that opinion, the committee has made no report.

ORDINANCE ASKED

During the hearings of the committee it was brought out that City Health Officer Parrish had asked the Council to pass an ordinance making examination of food handlers compulsory, but his request had not been approved by the Council's Health and Sanitation Committee, of which Foster is chairman.

Meanwhile, Dr. Parrish had testified, the health department had begun to examine food handlers who came to the department voluntarily or had been sent by their employers.

The Health Commission went on record as approving the actions of Dr. Parrish and also sent a communication to the Council requesting that specific authority be granted for the examination of food handlers. County Health Officer Fome-

Driver Ordered to Be Tried for Manslaughter

Harold Crandall of 2189 Sierra Madre Boulevard, Pasadena, must stand trial by Superior Court on manslaughter charges growing out of the death of Mrs. Eva Gwin of 1818 Argyle Boulevard, in an automobile accident. Municipal Judge Ambrose issued the order following his preliminary hearing on the charge yesterday.

According to testimony introduced by Dep. Dist. Atty. Burgess, Crandall's car crashed into Mrs. Gwin's at the intersection of Foothill Boulevard and Washington avenue, near Pasadena. Ball was fired at $160.

Crandall recently was held for trial on similar charges following the death of Mrs. Permillia J. Gwin of 44 Lucerne Boulevard, mother-in-law of Mrs. Eva Gwin, as a result of the same accident.

Beverage Man

Visitor in City

Robert W. Woodruff, president of the Coca-Cola Company, arrived yesterday with Mrs. Woodruff, and is registered at the Biltmore. He is here for a brief holiday and after several days plans to motor up the Coast, stopping in Santa Barbara.

Mr. Woodruff will inspect the plant of the Coca-Cola Company, with R. W. Thompson, vice-president, who is in charge of the Pacific Coast branches. Mr. Woodruff makes his home in Atlanta, Ga., but returns to California frequently for rest and recreation.

Bar Head Will Direct Unveiling of Memorial

The president of the American Bar Association, Gurney E. Newlin, has been chosen to act as master of ceremonies at the formal unveiling next Monday of the memorial statue to M. H. (Max) Whittier at Exposition Park. The memorial was designed and created by David Edstrom, and was sponsored by a committee, including Gen. M. H. Sherman, E. F. Clark, Thomas O'Donnell, Joseph E. Cady, Chester Wallace Brown, Henry O'Malley and Harry Chandler.

Rev. Dr. George Davidson, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, will give the invocation. Lewis V. Andrews will make a brief address on the life and accomplishments of Mr. Whittier. Gen. Sherman will make the formal presentation of the memorial to the Sixth District Agricultural Association, and it will be accepted on behalf of that body by William M. Bowen.

HOSPITAL FUND ASKED

FOR POLICE OFFICERS

In behalf of the families of Officers George Canady and M. J. Manley, the Police Commission yesterday asked the City Council for appropriations to pay the hospital expenses of the two officers, who are confined in sanatoriums because of their mental condition as the aftermath of sickness from "flu" contracted while on duty. Canady was explained, also, suffering from injuries received when he was struck on the jaw while arresting an intoxicated man.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE AND MEATS

High blood pressure is found in an alarmingly large percentage of people over middle age. It is considered such a dangerous symptom because it usually causes no symptoms. An applicant without further examination if the blood pressure is normal.

Every doctor takes the blood pressure as a matter of routine because it is important in diagnosis. The blood pressure is high for years without being aware of the fact since there is no symptom. The doctor should take an examination with a sphygmomanometer by a competent diagnostician. Many people come to the doctor with a high blood pressure. This could easily have been avoided by the proper fasting and resting regime had been indicated. The blood pressure is then affected by high blood pressure.

The instrument used to determine the blood pressure is placed on the upper arm and the blood pressure is determined by measuring how many millimeters of mercury the blood pressure is above the air pressure to stop the circulation through the brachial artery. The blood pressure is one mile and gradually increasing the distance as the endurance increases and the pressure increases.

A small amount of protein is needed in the daily diet. This can be meat protein or the protein obtained from eggs. A small quantity of either meat, starch or sugar is used, the poison from this excessive nourishment may create toxins which are irritating to the tissues.

The one with a tendency to high blood pressure should restrict on the nonstarchy green vegetables and use a liberal amount of the blood purifying and acid fluids. One must be careful not to eat too many fruits should be used whenever the blood pressure shows a tendency to increase.

COUNCIL INDORSES

TIDELANDS MEASUREMENTS

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution introduced by Councilman Davis urging the passage by the State Legislature of a bill which grants title to the city of Los Angeles in all tidelands within the city limits and not heretofore granted to the city. This bill, which was introduced by Assemblyman Stockwell, specifically grants the title of tidelands adjacent to six areas which have been added to the city in recent years.

BUGABOOS PERIL UNITY OF PORTS

Unjustified Objections Made to Harbor Project

Long Beach Fully Secured in Its Assured Rights

Co-operation Held to Be Need of Situation Now

BY CHARLES C. COHAN

Reawakened activity in Los Angeles and Long Beach in behalf of the project for the unification of their harbors into a single national port under unified port control has stirred into action the same sort of opposition to it that has come to the surface every time there has seemed to be a chance of carrying this immensely important plan to completion. There is a chief bugaboo and a number of lesser bugaboos advanced in the forefront of such opposition in a palpable effort to frighten Long Beach citizens in connection with the project. The chief bugaboo is a sort of Los Angeles conception whose sinister purpose, to the project's opposition, has it, is to swallow up the Long Beach harbor lock, stock and barrel, so to speak.

It is inconceivable that the interests actuating the bugaboos are frightened by them or that they fail to see the immense benefit that the project means for both cities. The paramount point in their campaign is their palpable effort to throw a scare into well-intentioned and sincere citizens who, they believe, are more apt to heed the cry of "wolf" than to penetrate the fallacy of the charge that Los Angeles is seeking to gobble up Long Beach Harbor.

NEEDLESS ALARM

If any alarm exists in Long Beach as to the unification project, it is a needless fear—Los Angeles is acting with utmost candor and friendship in promoting it and at the very outset the Federal government's position plainly was stated to be that if the project were solely for the benefit of either city, it would not be countenanced by the government.

Congress in granting a $7,000,000 subsidy for a requisite $14,000,000 breakwater extension, stipulated unification of the ports under unified control along with certain conditions of belt line service within the port area. This governmental financial aid never would have been offered if the conditions involved tended in any way to militate against the rights of Long Beach and set solely for the advantage of Los Angeles.

It is a grossly illogical for anti-unification spokesmen to shout the force and effect of the sentiment expressed via the ballot by Long Beach, as well as by Los Angeles, concerning the project. The overwhelming sentiment of both cities as thus expressed was favorable to the project. There never was any question as to the sincere purpose of the sentiment expressed as to bring about the best results for both communities.

MANDATE GIVEN

The result of the vote as stated cannot be waved aside with the mere intimation that it only applied to port unification "in principle" and that, therefore, didn't bind either community to anything. When the citizens of Los Angeles and Long Beach voted on the proposition they knew just what conditions were specified by the government. They knew the object was the creation of a single great national port with all the widespread benefits conferable by such a port.

By their vote the people said they wanted the breakwater extension—wanted it under the conditions stipulated, and they knew there was not a chance of not deriving benefit at the expense of the other.

To seek to brush aside the decision of the people with the assertion that it gave approval to the project "only in principle," that it meant nothing "binding," and was merely an expression of a willingness to merge Long Beach Harbor with Los Angeles Harbor when this could be done with full protection to Long Beach Harbor interests is decidedly weak opposition.

The vote was a mandate given to the proper authorities of both communities to go ahead and carry through the project.

There seems nothing to show that anything other than the blocking of this mandate was done. There apparently is nothing to show that any of Long Beach's interests ever were threatened. Indifference, petty jealousies and parrot politics have been blocking execution of the expressed will of the people.

IMAGINARY BARRIERS

The opposition seeks to make an insurmountable barrier of the breakwater extension itself, another of the Cerritos channel, another of the representation on the unified board of control.

The determination as to the breakwater extension is the result of the most careful and conscientious engineering analysis. It is something in which the Federal government is particularly concerned and the government isn't out to make any mistakes when it agrees to put up $7,000,000 to help build such an extension. That the extension would be of immeasurable benefit to Long Beach frontiers, as well as to those of Los Angeles, is indisputable.

Difference of views as to the contour on which the extension should be built are technical details and amenable to the best interests of all concerned in the unification project.

There is a lot of misapprehension as to the Cerritos channel stipulation. The governmental specification calls for the following:

"Obtain title to the water front on both sides of Cerritos channel for a length of 1500 feet, at such location as may be approved by the Secretary of War, and arrange for development, to the end that this section of the channel may be filled and used as an approach to Terminal Island; in exchange, the United States shall agree to make or meet the cost of such fill when called on to do so by the Secretary of War, and hold and save the United States from any arising out of any claims for damage which may be filed as a result of the closing of said channel."

ANIPLE SAFEGUARDS

Nothing in the foregoing except to show that unless the said 1500

feet of channel are filled the unification goes into the discard. The filling is subject to the order of the Secretary of War. Certainly no official of this government would do anything wantonly to injure the welfare of any community or intrude on the rights of any group of people.

Aside from that, there is the fact that modern-day engineering feats would make the bridging of the channel or the digging of tunnels under it a task so light as not to excite more than passing notice. If an arrangement could not be arrived at between duly constituted representatives of both cities and of the government for an approach to Terminal Island other than by filling any part of the channel, it is such alliance is deemed undesirable, then we are living in a despotic monarchy and not a republic.

At any rate, there evidently is nothing to show that overtures ever have been made to the Federal authorities on this point. Perhaps if more time had been put in trying to solve these issues rather than bickering about the project and seeking unwarrantedly to block it, both cities today might be enjoying the incalculable benefits of a mighty national port.

OPPOSITION UNTIMELY

Aside from all these facts pertaining to the project, is the outstanding fact that there is a well-defined movement in both communities to get together to save the project from going on the mere result of an adverse board of review recommendation unquestionably inspired by impatience with the tardiness shown regarding the plan. At the same time this joint movement is understood to be working out a plan of unification and unified control that ensure with every desirable principle for both cities. It has all the appearance of an earnest, sincere desire to handle the proposition free from politics or any other adverse angle.

This is the time to encourage such worthy endeavor, not block it.

BILL POSTER UNION LOSES MONOPOLY

Attempt to Usurp Control of Licenses Defeated by Police Commission Vote

An attempt by the Bill Posters' and Billers' Union, Local 32, to usurp city governmental privileges by regulating the bill-posting industry in the city in exchange for a license of $120 a year for a bill-posting license, failed yesterday when the Police Commission unanimously voted to grant the Al. Barnes circus a permit, as provided under city ordinances, to post its own bills.

The vote followed lengthy arguments by J. A. Putnam, business agent for the union, who wound up by delivering a typical union labor hall speech, denouncing the union and charging that "it is failing to give Los Angeles taxpayers protection against an outside business concern for a lousy $200 fee."

The union threatened that the union would withdraw from paying anything further toward its $120 a year for its permit, which it referred to as for "protection." His arguments were supported by C. J. Heins, president of the union.

F. J. Frink, general agent of the circus, explained to the commission that the circus pays in passes for places in which to post bills, that it hires local union men in Los Angeles to do the work, that in addition to the $30 for the posting permit it pays between $700 and $800 for license to show in the city.

Commissioners Gilmore, Gollum and President Schweitzer questioned the union representatives and asked them how a permit the circus would injure local industry, since it employed local men to post the bills.

Putnam explained that the union knew the best place to post the bills, that it had made itself responsible for cleaning the posters off walls and other places after the circus leaves the city and furnishes trucks for handling the bills.

Frink explained that the circus pays for everything, including the labor and trucks, but that since it is able to choose where the bills should be posted and would put up a bond guaranteeing to clean the city of the bills after the circus was through, he did not see why it should pay the union 10 cents for each poster put up.

Putnam then revealed that his main object was to place Los Angeles in the same category as other cities entirely dominated by unions.

"This is the only city in the United States of any size he declared, 'where a circus can go out and get a license to do its own work.'"

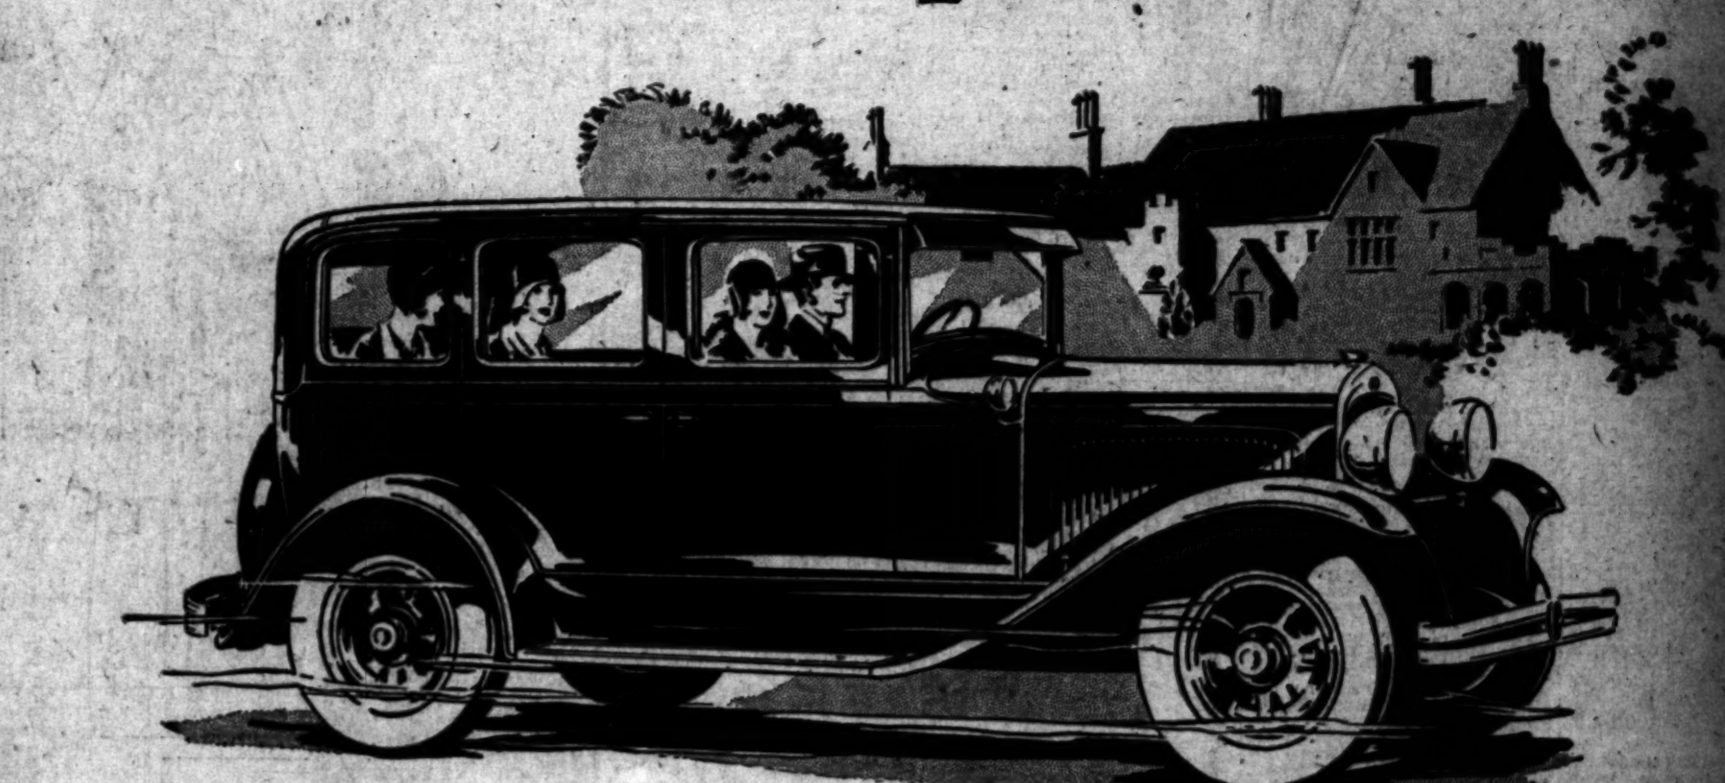

Further questions by the commissioners developed that the union simply inspects the work in return for 10 cents a poster, and Commissioner Gilmore, over the protestations of Putnam, moved that the circus be granted a permit to direct and place its own posters.

Commissioner Pien, seconded this motion and it carried unanimously, despite the "bulldozing" atmosphere injected into the proceedings by the union representatives.

Chrysler "65" 4-Door Sedan, $1245

SOME cars talk quality hoping you'll forget the price. Some cars shout price as if quality didn't matter. But, when it comes to a car having both appeals, that car most certainly is the Chrysler "65."

Compare it with cars of similar price and you will find it at least $500 better in quality and richness. Stand it alongside cars comparable in quality and you will find it a good $500 lower in price.

All Chrysler genius in style-making shines brilliantly forth in the Chrysler "65." Chrysler designers have gained an entirely new effect by applying in a modern way the finest principles of classic art which are centuries old, yet forever new.

Recipient, too, of all Chrysler progress in engineering, the Chrysler "65" performs entirely over the heads of all cars anywhere near it in price. Its big high-compression engine utilizes the famous Chrysler "Silver-Dome" principle, and develops 65-horsepower without apparently half trying.

The acceleration of the Chrysler "65" literally startles a driver who is unaccustomed to Chrysler pick-up. Everybody is equally impressed by the quick, positive control of Chrysler weatherproof 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—by far the safest brakes ever developed.

Pivotal steering and balanced front wheels make the Chrysler "65" incredibly gentle to handle and easy to park—while rubber shock insulators on the springs, plus hydraulic shock absorbers, assure riding qualities unsurpassed by cars of twice the price.

Worthy companion to the magnificent Chrysler Imperial and Chrysler "75"—the Chrysler "65" is adding universal prestige to the name that means, all over the world, everything that is fine and desirable in a motor car.

NANCE O'NEIL IN HIGH TRIUMPH

Her Tragic Art's Manifest in
"House of Women"

Makes Death Denouement
Live in Psychologic Play

Olive Tell Garner's Second
Honors in Production

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT
Even so much as a whisper would seem an offense. So perfect is the death scene of Nance O'Neil as acting in "The House of Women." Acting, this—worth anybody's time! And art!

"The House of Women" was given last night at the Figueroa Playhouse. Louis Bromfield dramatized it from his novel "The Green Bay Tree." The Los Angeles Repertory Theater offers the production, and in thespian values it is of their best.

Miss O'Neil is starred. Olive Tell, Helen Jerome Eddy and Theodore Hilt are the leading support. It is, however, Miss O'Neil's opportunity, and her success. While Miss Tell achieves ably and attractively the right to second place.

Perhaps the import of "The House of Women" is not great. The play is quiet in this era of the dynamic. It is a study of things much as they may be after the fashion. Or more properly as they might have been. For it is set in a period when men wore formal day dress, and women long trailing gowns.

The House of Women, spoken of in the title, is a dignified and solemn manse over which hover hereditary shadows. You learn of this in the opening act. There are hints of degeneration and decay in subtly shaded lines, and then the story of the past is told by the mother, who relates how she wooed out of her station and her kind, and how her husband desired sons and she bore him only daughters. She tells of his indolence and his cruelties, of how he had beat her and struck her, and in the process of mistreatment had caused her an injury which landed her and her daughter to walk with a cane ever after.

It is her narrative of her married life. She relates it to the man who has seduced her daughter, who wants to marry that daughter, but who is refused by the girl. It is the mother's expression of her opinion that in the matter of marriage and without regard to the circumstances that might seem to make the marriage advisable—the girl should exercise the privilege of choice for the sake of her happiness in after years.

The foreground to the actual drama is a long one in the instance of "The House of Women," and in some ways it is more interesting than what happens in the play itself. There are dramatic events, of course. There is a conflict between two daughters—the one freely questioning adventure and life, the other almost pathologically interested in religion and "causes." There is a workman's conflict in the background, which is vaguely associated with the traditions of the dead father. There are other elements, which like this may seem just a trifle dragged in.

For all of that, "The House of Women" is an interesting venture for an actress of Miss O'Neil's capabilities, and to it she brings all the best—and that is much indeed—which she can give. Those who possibly did not react so intensely to her portrayal of the mother in "The Silver Cord" will find her work a full compensation in this play. Her performance is replete with ironies, vigorous, human, and at times with pathos of a very crafty kind. You will like her character. It is well, nay beautifully done, with repression, at once, and power. Her death scene is superb—realism—well-nigh reality itself.

Miss Tell charms as a presence, she gives distinction to her role. It is the belief that she will add even more to it as an interpretation as the play goes along, because she is an intelligent actress. Her opening performance was more than worthy.

Miss Eddy had an emotionally tortured scene that was effective in the final act. The pitch of her voice was not perfect (it may have been due to nervousness). She seemed to please. Von Elts was convincing marked sincerity in his work.

Operatic Rarity Will Be Given

The inclusion of "Ruddigore" in the repertoire of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company for its first tour of America, is as welcome as it is unexpected, and its promised presentation here at the Mason Theater tomorrow night should be good news to lovers of comic opera, and particularly of Gilbert and Sullivan's productions.

The staging of "Ruddigore" for its first presentation at the Savoy cost the then stupendous sum of $5000 or $10,000 for scenery and properties alone. One reason it is so rarely seen is that the cost today is almost prohibitive, and it is only because the D'Oyly Carte company has the entire resources of its London headquarters to draw upon that it can be given now.

"Ruddigore" is one of the best of the joint productions of Sir William Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan. The music, the costumes, the ensembles are all beautiful; while the portraiture scene still stands in the class by itself for clever stage work and high dramatic and vocal opportunities.

"Ruddigore" will be given tomorrow and Friday nights, while at the Saturday performances, "Trial by Jury" and "The Pirates of Penzance" will be repeated.

Prize-Winning Novel Screened

Presenting Jack Muhlail and Dorothy Maclean in their first Vitaphone production, "Children of the Ritz," First National's adaptation of Cornell Woolrich's $10,000 prize-winning novel, will have its premiere showing next week at the Hillstreet Theater.

Reported sensational in its revelations of modern youth, the picture presents Jack Muhlail as a struggling chauffeur, Miss Maclean as a New York favorite, and others in the cast include Frances Lee, Kathryn McGuire, Lee Moran, Edward Burns, Doris Dawson, John Francis Dillon, and others.

Frances White, diminutive musical-comedy star, headlines the picture. Kathryn McGuire, stage bill, which likewise includes Buck and Bubbles, the Chessis, Pepito, Lockett and Page and company.

"SQUAWK" CONTINUES RUN "UNEXPIRGATED"

Self-styled censorship forces interested in John McDermott's "Squawk" at the Mayan, have been unsuccessful in demands that portions of the farce be eliminated, according to report from the theater management.

McDermott's play, described as a humorous view of colonial garb, not only by the timeliness of story, but by its whirlwind action. Its second act is a bedlam.

Foy Audible at Two Theaters

Eddie Foy, Jr., a son of the famous Eddie Foy and himself a vaudeville headliner, enacts a "hoof" in a prominent role in Warner Brothers' all-talking Vitaphone production "Queen of the Night Clubs" at the Orpheum.

Having appeared on the stage for many years with his father and "all the little Foyes," Eddie made his motion-picture bow with them in "The Favorite Fool," for Mack Sennett. He returned to the stage for several years and then made his talkie debut on Vitaphone for Warner Brothers in "The Swelled Head."

He also appeared in two other Vitaphone short presentations with his family, "The Foyes for Japs," and "Chips Off the Old Block." Foy, Jr., is seen and heard as a vaudeville comedian.

Howard "Domestic" Howard, author of the popular stage plays, "They Knew What They Wanted," "The Silver Cord," and others, was apparently permanently domiciled with the Samuel Goldwyn organization. Howard, who came to the coast several months ago to write the dialogue for "Condemned to Devil's Island," a Ronald Colman starring picture, found himself temporarily attracted to collaborate on the scripts of "This Is Heaven," Vilma Banky's new starring picture, and "Bulldog Drummond." The scripts of these two vehicles now completed. Howard starts again in this week on the story of the French penal settlement.

Katisha Recalls Career to Star

Although most persons wish with the poet that time might turn backward in its flight, only a few more or less lucky ones like Marie Dressler are able to turn back the pages of history. The merry comedienne, who essays a leading role in "The Swan," Edward Everett Horton's current hit at the Majestic Theater, recently saw herself as she was three decades ago.

Veteran theatergoers will remember that one of the prime stage favorites of the past was Katisha as interpreted by Marie Dressler in Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Mikado." At the time more interested in singing than in comedy, Miss Dressler essayed Katisha as her first important role on the stage and scored an instantaneous success.

The comedienne was able to hear the operetta again recently at the Mason.

Colored Basso Stays on Bill

George Dewey Washington, colored basso and recording artist, has been re-engaged by the Paramount Theater for another week, and will be featured in the new orchestral production, "Blue Shadows," which opens tomorrow.

"Blue Shadows" will be presented in addition to "Crimoline vs. Jazz," a Public Road-show revue, with Hayes and Speck, John Quinlan, and others. Jack Evan remains as master of ceremonies.

The feature picture of the week will present Douglas MacLean in his first dialogue film, "The Carnation Kid," a fast-moving action comedy, laid in a big city with gang wars, political feuds and killings all satirized. Frances Lee plays opposite MacLean.

Actors Elated to See Comedy

With letters and telegrams of acceptance and appreciation arriving from many performers of the dramatic stage as well as the vaudeville, it would appear that the mid-night professional matinee of "The Front Page" at the Belasco Theater Saturday will be a social event of sorts.

"The Front Page" is scheduled to leave the Belasco on the 16th inst., and it is in response to the many requests that the local players be given an opportunity to enjoy this wild, hilarious comedy before it leaves the city stage. This co-educational performance is being given.

Seats are available to the public.

MAY ROBSON PRAISES ACTING OF INGENUE

"Thank Heaven, I'm no longer a stage orphan, but have a mother, at least," says Doris Phillips, who plays Faure Breen, the daughter of the household, in "Mother's Millions" at the Hollywood Playhouse.

In Howard McKent Barnes' comedy, Miss Phillips is the daughter of Harriet, the role acted by Miss Robson, and which she created in the original New York production. Miss Robson is high in praise of Miss Phillips' performance.

"She is the most promising young ingenue I ever have watched," says the star. "When she told me that she had been on the stage less than a year since finishing school, I did not believe her. She acts with the resource and experience of one who has had several seasons of stage work."

Miss Phillips made her first stage appearance, since she was a child actress in stock, with Emma Dunn in "Daisy Mayne" in San Francisco last summer.

With ORIENTAL ATMOSPHERE Rex Holiday, organist, will introduce a special organ prologue entitled "Oriental Memories" as a prelude to the personal appearance of Sojin, Japanese motion-picture star, preceding the showing of "The Rescue" at the Million Dollar tonight.

SUPPORTING CAST NAMED BY DUFFY

Edwin Mills, Talented
Boy Actor, in "Courage"
With Emma Dunn

Henry Duffy has completed the cast to support Emma Dunn in Tom Barry's new comedy, "Courage," which the Henry Duffy Players will present at El Capitan, starting Sunday.

Bill, the youngest and the most important member of the Colebrook family, will be acted by young Edwin Mills, who won notice in New York as the boy in the original production of "Zander the Great" in which Alice Brady starred. Edwin, although only 10 years of age, has the experience of stage veteran. He has been in numerous Broadway productions and in several motion pictures. He is the son of a theatrical family, his 34-year-old sister, Evelyn, now being Big Boy's leading woman in pictures, while his uncle Charles Eaton, is being featured in the talkies. Two of his aunts are Doris Eaton, recently seen here in Lupino Lane's revue, and Mary Eaton, star of "The 6 O'Clock Girl."

Others in the cast are Flora Bramley, who was one of the 1923 baby Wampas stars and who plays Murrie Colebrook, the eldest daughter; Ann Atkinson, Elinor Chick, Robert Nelson, Robert Foster, Edward Benbrook, and Bob Winslow. Edwin H. Curtis is conducting the rehearsals.

CREATORE'S BAND WILL BE HEARD

Musical Aggregation to Share Honors With 'Abie's
Irish Rose' Here

Creator, for a quarter of a century one of America's popular and picturesque band leaders, comes to the Fox-Criterion Theater on Friday as a co-attraction with Paramount's stunning-sound comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose."

Creator has made twenty-six yearly tours of the United States and Canada and four world tours, including five round trips with his band through the British Isles and Europe. With the exception of Sousa he is perhaps the best known band leader who has been before the public since early in the new century.

He has played before every president since William McKinley, and before King George, King Edward and the Prince of Wales as well as before six Presidents of France and the crowned heads of twenty-seven European countries.

Creator last played in Los Angeles five years ago when he was engaged for a four-week visit, but stayed on by popular demand for fourteen months at the same downtown theater.

Cast in Lengthy Play Strangers to Each Other

Although Pauline Lord, Ralph Morgan, Harry C. Bannister and Donald MacDonald have roles in "Strange Interlude" that are probably longer than any others in the history of the American theater, some of the players in this extraordinary O'Neill play that has just begun a triumphant engagement at the Biltmore Theater have rather an easy time of it. For example, Walter Voynegut, who plays Prof. Leeds, appears only in the first act, from 5:30 in the afternoon until about 5:58. Then, in the first intermission, he is supposed to die, so that he may get comfortably to his dinner and see another play the same evening, if he likes.

On the other hand, Helen Ann Hughes, who plays Madeline Arnold, does not appear in the play until the eighth act, along about 10:15 p.m., and James Todd, who plays Gordon Evans as a man, does not appear until the ninth act, about 10:40 p.m. Though they are in the same play, sometimes whole weeks elapse in which Miss Hughes never meets Voynegut, inasmuch as they work in different "shifts," so to speak.

But the roles of Miss Lord and Mr. Morgan, who appear in all nine of the acts, and of Messrs. MacDonald and Bannister, who appear in eight of them, are about the most arduous and exhausting any actor could attempt.

With letters and telegrams of acceptance and appreciation arriving from many performers of the dramatic stage as well as the vaudeville, it would appear that the mid-night professional matinee of "The Front Page" at the Belasco Theater Saturday will be a social event of sorts.

"The Front Page" is scheduled to leave the Belasco on the 16th inst., and it is in response to the many requests that the local players be given an opportunity to enjoy this wild, hilarious comedy before it leaves the city stage. This co-educational performance is being given.

Seats are available to the public.

Hersholt Ability to Talk Hailed

The enviable reputation which Jean Hersholt achieved in the silent drama is now apparently to find increased luster in the new world of talking pictures. Beginning Saturday he will be seen in a starring character role in "The Young Generation," a Columbia talking production based on a story by Fannie Hurst, which Frank Capra directed.

Only recently Hersholt's performance in "The Girl on the Train" at the University Theater, elicited merited remarks from critics throughout the country, who stressed the fineness of the actor's pantomimic work as well as his voice.

In addition, Hersholt, who, April 13, will end contractual obligations to Universal, is to be seen Friday at the Criterion in "Abie's Irish Rose," a Paramount talking picture. In this production also, Hersholt essays the featured character role of Solomon Levi.

With Hersholt's departure from Universal a foregone conclusion, several prominent producers have already expressed desire to secure his signature on a long-term starring contract. It is reliably reported.

Government employees of Bolivia are complaining because their salaries are in arrears.

NEW SMUGGLING RING DISCLOSED

Thousands of Dollars Held Paid by Aliens

Four Arrested in Calexico on Federal Charges

Result of Statements from Two Spaniards

CALEXICO, March 5.—Evidence that fees amounting to thousands of dollars have been paid by aliens smuggled across the California-Mexican border was obtained here today following the arrest of four men who are believed to have operated on a wholesale basis through Mexicali, Tijuana and Tecate.

The men under arrest are Eduardo K. Cesna, Caledonio Esquer, Santiago Duckworth and Francisco Rodriguez. They were taken into custody after immigration officers had secured statements from Refugio and Efron Mongaray, Spaniards, who were arrested last week as illegal entrants into the United States.

The two Mongarays stated that they were cousins.

According to their story they became acquainted with Esquer, a Mexican taxicab driver, and were brought over the line and turned over to Cesna. The latter, he said, took them to Alfred Bladell, a local attorney, where they were given affidavits that they had resided in the United States for the past nine years.

Through clues obtained from the men, and the subsequent arrest of Esquer and Cesna, the officers learned that Duckworth and Rodriguez were also involved. Papers secured from these men indicated that hundreds of aliens, a majority of them Spaniards, have paid sums ranging from $30 to $100 each to be smuggled into the United States during recent months. Their activities were confirmed through the records of local notary public offices.

A part of the contract with each alien was that he was to be furnished an affidavit which would establish his residence in the United States for a long enough period to prevent deportation.

In a hearing before the United States Commissioner at El Centro this morning the bonds of the suspects were fixed at $500 each.

Water Bureau to Sink More Valley Wells

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, March 5.—Additions and improvements to the water system in this district which will involve an expense of about $150,000 will be made soon, it is announced by officials. It is stated that additional ground has been bought by the water department on Vanowen street, and that a new pumping station and reservoir will be built.

The city already has advertised for bids on the installation of the pump. Several new wells are to be sunk into the gravel beds of the recently acquired property, and a concrete pumping station like the one on Vanowen street is to be constructed.

In connection with this pumping plant it is understood that a reservoir with a capacity of about 300,000 cubic feet of water will be constructed. This reservoir will increase the efficiency of the water supply and will provide a place for the storage of water before it is pumped to the larger reservoirs of the Los Angeles system. At present, according to the officials, water that is being pumped now from the wells in the gravel beds on Vanowen street goes direct into the mains.

It is stated that when the new local system is completed this area will have a water supply and pressure will be constant.

Increase in Valley Melon Crop Sighted

EL CENTRO, March 5.—Imperial Valley's 1934 melon crop will amount to 36,332 acres, according to a report issued today by County Horticultural Commissioner B. A. Harrigan, who has just completed his annual survey of the crop.

The census shows 26,338 acres of cantaloupes, 4900 acres of honeydews, 3785 acres of honey balls and 1900 acres of miscellaneous melons. Approximately two-thirds of the area is planted in the Imperial and north-end district. Harrigan stated that 14,256 acres are covered with paper caps and are classified as early melons, 21,076 acres are uncovered. The figures indicate an increase of approximately 20 per cent over the acreage harvested last year.

SLAYER SUSPECT ASSERTS MISTAKE

SAN BERNARDINO, March 5.—Wanted on a charge of murdering a deputy sheriff in Willow Creek, Jim M. Cheyvington, 23 years old, was arrested yesterday at the Ford Ford Works here, where he had been employed two days, by Deputy Sheriff Ernest T. Shaw and Carl Hansen. Particulars of the slaying of the officer at Willow Creek has not been received by Sheriff Shaw, who has advised authorities there of the arrest. Cheyvington offered no resistance when he was arrested and said there was a mistake as to his being the man wanted for murder.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

ARCADIA, March 5.—Rev. and Mrs. John A. Glass and two sons have occupied the manse of the Community Church here, of which Mr. Glass has accepted the pastorate. A church reception to welcome the new minister and his family is planned for next week by the congregational leaders.

EXTENSIVE HONEYMOON STARTS

McLeans to Tour Europe and Argentine

Mr. and Mrs. John Reginald McLean

SANTA BARBARA, March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. John Reginald McLean are expected to return here Sunday from Del Monte for a brief sojourn at the S. S. Augustus for Italy and Southern France. After spending several months in Europe they will go to Brazil to visit United States Ambassador and Mrs. Robert Wood Bliss, also Santa Barbarans.

Mrs. McLean formerly was Mrs. Kathleen Peabody, widow of the millionaire oil manufacturer, and was internationally known for her relief work in France. It was while in France that she met her present husband, a mining engineer and World War veteran, which culminated in the ceremony here Saturday.

The bride's wedding was celebrated by the falling pipe and Arnet was seriously injured. He is being treated at the Santa Barbara hospital.

Mystery in Boy's Death

PASADENA, March 5.—Results of an autopsy performed today on the body of a 9-year-old Arthur Van Bibber, of 760 South Hudson avenue, who died last night after being inoculated with lockjaw antitoxin, indicate that the death did not result from the serum, but from some undiagnosed disease. Dr. Frank Webb, autopsy surgeon, stated that he will hold his report on the case in abeyance pending additional laboratory tests.

The boy's wrist was cut by glass last week when he was infected with lockjaw. The antitoxin was called to the home last night and left after injecting the antitoxin. Fifteen minutes later, the patient lapsed into unconsciousness and died less than an hour later. Artificial respiration was resorted to without success.

RELANDS COUNCIL FAILS TO NAME MAN

RELANDS, March 5.—Members of the City Council have so far been unable to agree on an appointment to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of W. L. Thornequest. The resignation of Thornequest took effect the 1st inst. The Council is considering a special election for the purpose of naming a man to serve until April, 1936, when there is a general election.

WASHBURN FACES TRIAL

ANAREIM, March 5.—Don S. Washburn of this city today was bound over to Superior Court for trial on a charge of having killed E. K. Willard, also of this city, out of $400 in a deal on an oil derrick. Washburn came up for hearing before Justice Charles Kuehl on a charge of grand theft.

BOND VOTE TOTAL GROWS

Ontario Council Plans to Submit Issue at Same Time Chaffey School Plan is Offered

ONTARIO, March 5.—Voters of this community will probably face one of the most far-reaching bond issues in history of this city on April 9, if present plans of Chaffey District School Board and the City Council here are consummated.

Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey Union High School and Junior College, recently announced a bond issue to expand the present school system by building a group of junior high-school and other buildings.

The council at midnight last night came to the conclusion that the city's proposed bond issue for the purpose of acquiring additional water-bearing lands, suitable for protection for the south side of

HEALTH CHIEF TO QUIT POST

Dr. Fox Admits Probability of His Resignation

Controversy Hinted But He Sidesteps Discussion

Frequent Clashes Recalled by Announcement

PASADENA, March 5.—Dr. Warren F. Fox, city health officer here for four years, admitted tonight that he may present his resignation to the Board of City Directors this week. City Manager R. V. Orkison, while declining to make an official statement, declared that he understands that Dr. Fox will sever his connection with the city in the immediate future.

"I am considering resigning, but do not care to discuss the controversial aspects of the case," said the health official when asked for a statement. "During my term of office I have worked to the limit of my ability to provide Pasadena with a progressive and modern health department and it is natural that certain of my proposals suggested with the aim of protecting the health and lives of Pasadenans have met with concerted opposition."

Since taking office, Dr. Fox inaugurated an annual inspection of all food handlers, has established a series of child-hygiene clinics and has removed dangers of infection through improving housing conditions in the Mexican districts, according to his statement.

When he attempted recently to inaugurate a strict sanitary inspection of all barber shops a storm of protest arose, the barbers contending that the proposed barber-shop ordinance duplicated the State law.

Opposition to a comprehensive sanitary ordinance sponsored by the city health officer resulted recently in the rejection of the measure by the Board of City Directors on the ground that it would give the health department autocratic power over citizens.

The most recent upheaval affecting Dr. Fox's department was the proposal to place the city health activities under county control.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT IN OIL MISHAP

Swab Blows Out During Effort to Put Ventura Well on Production

VENTURA, March 5.—Tom McClure, 26 years of age, was killed; William Arnet was seriously injured and David Wagoner was slightly injured at 2 a.m. today when a two-inch, sixteen-foot swab blew out of the Associated Lloyd Well No. 9 as the crew was attempting to place the well on production.

McClure's head was crushed by the falling pipe and Arnet was seriously injured. He is being treated at the Santa Barbara hospital.

SKULL BROKEN IN FALL OFF SCAFFOLD

GLENDALE, March 5.—J. W. Corey, 1908-B East Broadway, sustained a possible fracture of the skull and a broken nose, besides severe lacerations about the head today when he fell from a scaffold at a garage that is being erected at Brand Boulevard and Magnolia street, falling twelve feet. Corey was taken to the Windsor Hospital.

Speeding Blamed in Girl's Death

GLENDALE, March 5.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of Miss Mary Hladish, 13 years of age, of Burbank, who was killed in an automobile accident Sunday on San Fernando Road, returned a verdict today holding Rupert Holmberg, 17, of this city, guilty of speeding and reckless driving. The jurors recommended that Holmberg be dealt with according to law, after testimony had been presented to show that he had been driving at more than fifty miles an hour.

Holmberg was arrested yesterday on a manslaughter charge, and is held in the City Jail in default of $8000 bail.

SAN DIEGO FOG KEEPS TUG BUSY ON ASSISTANCE

SAN DIEGO, March 5.—Early morning fog shrouding the harbor district resulted in a busy morning for the naval tug Koka. It received a call from the naval tug No. 88 that it was stranded in the vicinity of Beacon No. 8, near North Island, having struck a mud bank en route from the foot of Broadway to the La Playa coaling station. The Koka went to the rescue at once and succeeded in returning No. 88 to its watery pathway across the harbor.

Its work was not done, however. The Koka, which is being used to tow the freighter Sagadahoc, inbound from New York, had gone around in the fog between beacons Nos. 2 and 4, also in the vicinity of North Island. The Sagadahoc was compelled to remain inactive all day, due to the fact that a lowering tide during the morning prevented its being towed to the deeper channel waters.

FLAG DISPLAY APPROVED

HAWTHORNE, March 5.—The American Legion here has been granted permission to install flag holders in the rear of the main street of business houses on the main street who subscribe to the movement under Commander Vandercor.

The campaign was opened this morning and is expected to be completed in time to install flags for Memorial Day.

ASSERTED "HUGGER" ARRESTED

Woman Accused of Robbing Men by Throwing Her Arms About Them and Then Relieving Them of Valuables

Captured by Professed Victim

SANTA PAULA, March 5.—Jesse Waters, asserted "hugger," is in the County Jail under $2000 bond on two counts of grand larceny awaiting preliminary hearing while police officers of this city and county are amassing evidence from a score or more of men who are said to be her victims.

Arrested here by police officers after her capture, by George A. Anderson, she went into a profane tirade and then lapsed into aphasic-like silence that has not been broken.

At her arraignment yesterday she declined to make a statement, ask a jury trial if bound over to the Superior Court, and fight the charge.

JURORS OKEH ROAD CAMP

County Inquisitors Deny Charges That Prisoners in San Bernardino Are Being Mistreated

SAN BERNARDINO, March 5.—San Bernardino county's policy of operating its prison camp, including solitary confinement as a disciplinary measure for belligerent inmates, was endorsed today in a statement issued by the grand jury after a committee had made an exhaustive investigation of the camp operated in Lytle Creek Canyon.

The food at the camp is better than that served in many construction camps. The prisoners are well cared for and sanitary conditions are as good as can be expected, the grand jurors reported, but urged the adoption of a system of washing and clothing twice monthly instead of fumigating as is now the practice. Charges that the prisoners were subjected to inhuman treatment were refuted by the jurors.

The question of maintaining discipline is entirely a matter for the camp superintendent to handle," said J. J. Prendergast of Redlands, foreman of the jury. "We found no evidence of anyone being mistreated. If reformers and certain newspapers would refrain from describing the solitary confinement cell as the 'black hole' it would lose its reputation very quickly."

The grand jury investigation was called because the efficiency and production of the camp fell sharply after an attempted campaign to change the policy of handling the prisoners and enforcing discipline. The criticism of camp operation is largely without basis, the jury continued. The solitary confinement cell is used only in cases where the prisoners refuse to work as all are required to do at the camp.

MEMORIAL BANQUET PLANNED

Survivors of St. Francis Dam Flood to Observe Day of Thanksgiving

SANTA PAULA, March 5.—One year from the day when the St. Francis Dam broke, March 13, last, and released a torrent of water, destroying homes and everything in its path along the Santa Clara River Valley, the Southwest Improvement Club of this city, whose membership is composed chiefly of flood sufferers, will stage a memorial banquet with Los Angeles city officials and others in attendance.

The banquet will be in the way of a thanksgiving. George A. Bond, president of the club, said today: "We are going to show that we are thankful that things are again back to normal and that Los Angeles has paid her debt."

In co-operation with the improvement club, the Lions Club of this city has provided a squadron of airplanes to fly up and down the river, dropping wreaths and flowers on the submerged graves of uncovered victims. They will also circle the cemetery and drop flowers and memorial services are being held over the graves of the unknown dead.

Vaudeville Man Takes Bad Fall

UPLAND, March 5.—The party was going along fine until Ernest Duarte, 28-year-old vaudeville entertainer, had to "faw down and go home," right through a window. Consequently, Duarte expects to leave San Antonio Community Hospital for tomorrow for his home in San Dimas.

When Duarte fell through the window at the height of the party's hilarity, the broken glass severed the main vein of his right arm near the elbow. Considerable blood was lost before Dr. H. C. Anderson got the win sewed up again.

BISHOP BURNS WILL DEDICATE SCHOOL

GLENDALE, March 5.—Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of the Methodist Episcopal Church will conduct the formal dedication services for the new school building of the First Methodist Church, Sunday, preaching at the morning service. The new building will be thrown open to the public for a special reception and housewarming Friday night when the members of the Church Brotherhood will present a special program. Sunday night the second part of the dedicatory program will be presented, featuring a concert by the choir of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, led by John Smallman.

BURGLARY SUSPECT FACES SIX COUNTS

UPLAND, March 5.—Claude Brasswell, accused burglar, shot by Officer Lorrain Loch, while assertedly fleeing after robbing a home here today faced six counts of burglary. He was ordered held after arraignment in Superior Court and given two weeks to prepare his plea.

Brasswell was shot through the arm when he refused to obey an order to halt. Officers are trying to connect Brasswell with thirteen other burglaries in the county.

EXECUTIVE INMATE IN HER OWN HOSPITAL

SAN CLEMENTE, March 5.—Miss Sarah Ruddy, superintendent of the San Clemente Clinic and Hospital, a patient in her own institution. Dany Heaton found her unconscious beneath her car, and rushed her to the hospital. Miss Ruddy has three fingers nearly severed from her hand. It is not yet known whether she will lose one or more of the fingers.

CORNER-STONE GIVES RELICS

Remodeling of Old Fellow's Hall Preserves Mementoes Dated 1894

ONTARIO, March 5.—A varied assortment of mementoes dating from 1894 were found today when the corner-stone of the old Odd Fellows Hall was removed during remodeling of the structure.

The copper box was found to contain a list of the members of the L.O.O.F. Lodge, No. 345; the card of the contractor, W. H. Simmons; a piece of quartz wrapped in a letterhead of San Bernardino County Auditor George R. Holbrook; now Ontario city judge; an Odd Fellows' gavel and copies of two weekly newspapers, the Ontario Record of February 7, 1894, and the Ontario Observer, the latter having passed out of existence since.

The piece of quartz came from Long's Peak, Colo., August 7, 1880, according to the note with it.

WATER PLAN PERPLEXES TWO CITIES

Upland Starts Situation in Requesting Right to Drill in Ontario

ONTARIO, March 5.—All the wisdom of Solomon will have to be displayed if Upland and Ontario are to be satisfied with the outcome of a water situation which sprang up before members of the City Council here last night.

In behalf of the city of Upland, R. C. Manley, City Engineer, and F. C. Buffington, Upland Councilman, asked Ontario Council for the privilege of drilling a well in Ontario, the water to be used in Upland.

E. H. Joffile, Ontario City Attorney, objected strenuously to the proposal, declaring that twenty years ago Cucamonga gave a similar privilege to San Antonio. The city of Ontario and Upland, granting that privilege waived all future opposition which the Cucamonga Water Company has to the installation of the well and transportation of the water from the limits of Cucamonga to other parts of the district.

He declared also that Ontario would be robbing itself of vitally needed water if Upland were to be granted the privilege of drilling the well in Ontario.

Brady Murder Quiz Shifted Into Ventura

VENTURA, March 5.—Two women and two men, arrested in connection with the murder of Carmine Buono, alias James Brady, were brought here last night for further investigation. Deputy Sheriff Suyler and Wallace brought two of the men in the case, Dominic Leo and Frank Rocco, and Deputy Sheriff Ray Randall brought the two women, Mrs. Gertrude Forrester and Audrey Moroco.

After being booked here, the two women were taken by Randall to Santa Barbara, where they spent the night to be returned here this morning for questioning by Sheriff Clark, Dist. Atty. James C. Hollingsworth and his deputy, Don Holt. Late today no complaints had been issued against any of the quartet. What went on behind the closed doors of the District Attorney's office could not be ascertained, and none of the quartet would talk.

Permit Asked in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, March 5.—Ford Motor Company will make formal application to the Long Beach Building Department Wednesday for a permit to erect that part of the harbor assembly plant which will be located in this city, it was announced today by Tucker McClure of Los Angeles, representing the District architect who will have charge of the construction. Application for the permit in Los Angeles territory will be filed within a day or two, McClure stated.

Award of contract bids opened at Detroit February 27 for the various elements of the plant are expected to be made within a week, McClure declared.

FLOOD DAM CONTEMPLATED

Pasadena Virtually Finishes Plans for Eaton Canyon Work Which Will End Menace in District

PASADENA, March 5.—A $500,000 flood-control dam will be constructed this spring in Eaton Canyon, northeast of this city, it was learned today at the City Hall. Plans for the dam are virtually complete and will be submitted to the County Supervisors on April 1, according to County Flood Control Engineer E. C. Eaton.

The Eaton dam will be 200 feet high and will rest upon bedrock. It will be used entirely for flood-control purposes and is not expected to augment this city's water supply.

City Director Robert L. Daugherty states that the county has spent
